Generous Girl Makes Dream Come True

Here's a Fish Story —With a Difference

DR. HANS SELYE
... 'always disease'

'Old Age Kills No One'

QJAL, Calif. (UPI) — A pioneer stress psychologist says "no one dies of old age. It is always disease."

Dr. Hans Selye, director of the Institute of Experimental Research at Montreal, said once cures are found for stress and cancer man can expect a greatly increased life span.

"No one has ever reached the limit of age," he added.

Royal Baby News 'Delights' Aunt

Out of Tibet Indians Told

NEW DELHI (Reuters) — Communist China has warned Indians not to go to Tibet this year because the Chinese are launching a "punitive expedition" against Tibetan rebels.

Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Lower House that the Indian consul-general in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa was informed that Indian pilgrims would enter Tibet at their own risk.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, great aunt of the Queen and widow of Canada's Second World War Governor-General, had a rare and animated chat with reporters Monday night—mainly about the royal family's anticipated happy event.

"The family knew nothing about it until they read it in the papers," said the 76-year-old princess when asked if she had advance news that the Queen was expecting a baby early next year.

"We're all delighted, of course," she said. "Oh! It was a delightful surprise." Had any names been decided for the royal infant? "Good heavens, no," said Princess Alice.

This is a fish story with a difference. It's about an Indian boy and a young girl whose generosity brought him the bicycle he'd always wanted and probably never could have owned.

It's a simple story on the surface. Eleven-year-old Bobby Olson of the South Saanich Indian Reserve entered Sunday's junior fishing derby with his heart set on winning the bicycle offered as first prize.

GOT HIS BIKE

He could finish no better than second, but got his bicycle anyway because Jo-Ann Halfhide, 15, of 2639 Chambers, won it and traded him first prize for second when she saw how much the bicycle meant to him.

But they were telling the other part of the story last night at Gilbert's Boathouse, where Bobby works packing bait and has been saving his pennies for the dream of a day when he could buy himself a bicycle.

"Bobby had a chance to go in the derby last year," Harry Gilbert reported. "But he slept in and missed the boat. So he took no chances this time. Saturday night he walked in from the reserve and curled up in a truck with his dog to wait for the derby to start."

MILK, SANDWICH

"I gave him some milk and a sandwich before he went to sleep. When I went down to get him he still had half the sandwich, which he told me he'd saved for breakfast. He's that kind of a boy."

"Bobby's Bank." Bobby's money goes into it along with contributions from his fishermen friends. Gilbert figures there must be $15 in it by now.

Now that the bicycle problem is solved, the money will go towards buying him a new outfit for school.

But it's a long way from $15 to the price of a bicycle, and Bobby, as his parents admit, would never have been able to get one on his own. He is one of a family of 10, and there are 14 children staying in the small house on the reserve.

His father, a boom man at B.C. Forest Products, is out of work because of the strike.

SO IMPORTANT

That's why it was so important to Bobby that he be on time for the derby. He and Miss Halfhide, whom he now calls "my best friend," went out on the same boat, owned by her brother-in-law, Tom Moss. Bobby caught a 10-pound, three-ounce salmon, two pounds lighter than the winner landed by Miss Halfhide.

"But he wanted that bike so much, and we all knew it, so I just had to give it to him," explained the girl, who took the second prize of a fishing kit. She does not have a bicycle of her own.

HUGGED ME

Bobby wasn't saying much about the bike last night except "My mom hugged me when she found out I won." But his dark eyes sparkled each time it was mentioned, and his actions Sunday night show how much the gift meant.

When it came time to go to bed, the bicycle went with him.

Strike Mediator

More Time For Deutsch?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said Monday that Prof. John J. Deutsch may be given an extension of the 14-day period he was given by the government to attempt settlement of the seven-week-old woodworkers' strike.

Dr. Deutsch now is in the second week of the period stipulated by the government when he was appointed as industrial commissioner in the costly pay dispute.

Mr. Wicks said Dr. Deutsch so far has been unable to bring together representatives of the 25,000 striking members of the IWA and the 125 affected coastal lumber concerns.

"This will be no hurry-up job," the minister said.

The University of B.C. economics professor has held meetings almost daily with officials of the IWA and Forest Industrial Relations, a management-bargaining agency.

Mr. Wicks said the meetings will continue today but declined to comment on progress. The woodworkers originally demanded a 20 per cent increase in the $1.72 basis hourly wage but later scaled this down to 12 per cent, equivalent to a 20-cent increase. The companies have offered increases totalling 12 cents over two years.

Diefenbaker's Dream

Vast Power Grid Seen for Canada

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday he could visualize a national energy power grid stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific to provide an unceasing flow of energy for development of the nation.

Interchanges of power are taking place between Ontario and Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Manitoba, he said. In the Atlantic provinces, a vast power pool was being developed for December operation.

"I can visualize," the prime minister told the associated boards of trade of central British Columbia and Alaskan affiliates, "a national energy grid anchored at one end of the Hamilton River in Newfoundland and the other end on the Columbia and the Taku."

This was part of a picture of the "new Canada," he said. And Kitimat, the multi-million-dollar aluminum development hewed out of the wilderness, was a symbol of the "explosive type of Canadian development which has caught the imagination of the world."

He said all 10 provinces will attend a national conservation conference in 1960. He believed the conference would mark a changing trend in national thinking about the country's resources.

Mr. Diefenbaker made many departures from his prepared text and ranged over a wide range of subjects.

He said the government had no tight money policy (see Page 12), that cutbacks in loans by the chartered banks cannot be blamed on the high Bank of Canada discount rate. And so long as he was prime minister small business would have as much chance as big business. Small business was the backbone of the country.

Any shortage of money that had developed was due to the increasing demand for loans because of the vast upsurge in national development across the land.

"Either you develop or you perish," the prime minister declared. "You cannot sit tight on a safety vault."

Hurry Family Court Plan Saanich Board Urges

Saanich police commission last night asked council to make every effort to hasten the establishment of a joint juvenile-family court for Greater Victoria.

Reeve George Chatterton told council the matter was being investigated by the inter-municipal committee which was waiting for information from the government.

John D. Out-Casts Governor But Not a Nibble at Kitimat

KITIMAT (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker dropped affairs of state for a brief spell Monday to sink a line in the Kitimat River. But he didn't catch a thing.

Although he was already late, the prime minister had his car caravan stopped a few miles out of Kitimat en route to Terrace to accept the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to wet a line in the river bordering the highway.

He was told there were some big salmon being taken and was shown a string of four beauties as proof. The prime minister donned a raincoat against a heavy drizzle, walked to the riverbank and began casting. So did Alaska Governor William Egan, who accompanied him.

But although he cast like an expert, far outdistancing the governor, he didn't get a nibble and finally quit.

"It's not the first time I've been skunked," he said as he reluctantly gave up.

MYSTERY WRECK, SKELETONS FOUND

Polio Shuts Schools

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Education Minister G. A. Frecker announced Monday that opening of Newfoundland schools will be delayed at least two weeks because of an outbreak of polio.

Two new cases have brought Newfoundland's total to 48 this year.

May Be Remains Of U.S. Navy Plane

Wreckage of a "mystery" plane with "a possible" 11 skeletons was found at the 4,000-foot level of Mount McCreight, 20 miles northwest of Campbell River, late yesterday.

A ground search party from the RCAF Station, Comox, in a brief radio report to an overhead plane, said the aircraft appeared to be a U.S. Navy Neptune.

NOT POSITIVE

The message said the total of dead was not positive.

The wreckage was first discovered by Cpl. W. H. Glover of 409 Squadron at Comox, while he was on a fishing trip to Roberts Lake, RCAF rescue co-ordination headquarters said.

RETURN TODAY

RCAF spokesmen said there would be no positive identification of the plane until the ground party returned from the scene sometime today with serial number of the aircraft and other information.

But the crash description sounded like a grisly twin of the find in Sept., 1951, when wreckage of a U.S. Navy training Neptune with 11 on board was found at the same 4,000-foot level of the same mountain.

TRAINING FLIGHT

The 1951 discovery was identified as the wreck of a twin-engine Neptune missing on a training flight Dec. 23, 1950.

Never reported found was a similar U.S. Navy aircraft said to have gone aboard that vanished on another flight in November, 1948, in the same area.

Party that brought out the remains of the 11 crash victims found in '51 reported finding nothing but "wreckage and bones." They said no personal effects, "not even dog tags," were found.

The remains found in that year were strewn over a 400-yard area on the steep mountainside. The search party said the aircraft apparently hit the mountain head on.

Laotian Capital Panics

VIENTIANE, Laos (CP)—Panic hit the royal capital of Luang Prabang Monday as reports of Communist rebel attacks in the province reached the city.

About 50 families were reported to have fled the city. Unconfirmed reports said rebels were operating within 30 miles of Luang Prabang, which lies north of this administrative capital.

If You Have Hayfever, Get Away from It All

MONTREAL — If you suffer from hayfever the best thing to do is get away from the hay-fever belt, a "weed expert" says.

Clarence Frankton, weed investigation supervisor in the federal plant research institute, says ragweed, principal tormentor of hayfever victims, can't be eliminated because of "astronomical" cost. So, the best thing for Canada's 200,000 sufferers to do is get away from ragweed, which is worst in southwestern Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley and Winnipeg.

GALWAY, Ireland — Dr. Michael Browne, Catholic bishop of Galway, has warned all unmarried couples in his diocese that swimming together "is the cause of grave sins which bring shame and dishonor."

Saints 'Used' To Tempt God

MONTREAL (CP) — Rev. Armand Croteau said Sunday some Roman Catholics are forgetting the essence of Christianity in the way they are making use of religious articles and prayers to the saints.

Addressing pilgrims at the chapel of Reparation in suburban Pointe-aux-Trembles, Father Croteau said some prayed to St. Blaise to cure a throat ailment. Some who wanted to win a sweepstake prayed to St. Jude.

As for religious articles, such things as St. Joseph's oil, St. Christopher medals and miniature pictures of St. Ann were being misused.

He described St. Joseph's oil as an ordinary vegetable oil that was blessed by a priest at St. Joseph's Oratory in Montreal. Anyone seriously ill who threw away his medicine and refused to consult a doctor because he believed the oil would cure him was not showing admirable faith but was committing a sin of "tempting God."

Board Outlines Steps

Urban Renewal Survey Possible If City Acts

Steps whereby Victoria could launch an "urban renewal" survey of rundown parts of the city have been outlined by the Capital Regional Planning Board through its chairman, Brahm Weisman.

In a letter to the city, as requested by council, Mr. Weisman outlined a resolution which should be adopted by city council in order to qualify for an $18,000 grant from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for the work.

Budget for the program, which would be included in the resolution, would be $25,000, Mr. Weisman said. Of this, $18,350 would be for staff. The balance, $6,650, would be for such other expenses as consultants, mapping, building, and printing of the report.

Under the National Housing Act 75 per cent of the sum necessary would come as a grant to the city—about $18,000. The remainder, just over $6,000, would be the city's regular 1959 grant to the Capital Regional Planning Board. The study could lead to rebuilding of rundown sections of the city, including parts of James Bay, Victoria West, the downtown section west of Government, the mill area, and the district around Memorial Arena.

The program is expected to meet with approval of city council.

Montana Quake Lake New Disaster Threat

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP)—Army engineers attacked a fallen mountainside Monday in a race to prevent a possible new disaster resulting from the Montana earthquake a week ago.

Key to the danger is "Quake Lake, a swelling reservoir formed when the side of an 8,000-foot mountain was sheared off and sent crashing through a camping ground into the Madison River below. The 50,000,000 tons of rock and earth blocked the river seven miles below Heggen Dam.

The question is whether the natural dam will hold back waters which are feeding into the newly-formed lake at the rate of 2,000 to 3,000 acre-feet a day.

Wendell Johnson, chief of the Missouri River division's engineering section, estimated the water will crest at the natural dam in 20 to 30 days. He estimated the dam plugging the valley ranges from 150 to 400 feet deep and is a mile long. Water behind it already is about 80 feet deep. The engineers were sent here to determine any solution to end the potential flood threat.

Two popular suggestions are to make a permanent dam of the slide, with gates to permit regulated runoff, or cut a channel through the slide.

Heggen Dam, itself damaged by the earth shocks last week, holds back more than 300,000 acre-feet. Engineers are watching it closely for further damage.

The nearest town is Ennis, Mont., whose 600 residents were evacuated briefly after the original quake. Ennis is 45 miles downstream from the slide area.

ECONOMY with GAS

You pay only for the gas you use—after you use it. Installation costs are lower, and a gas furnace has a long life. You don't pay for storage bins or tanks, or tie up money in idle fuel.

AUTOMATIC heat with GAS

With an automatic-controlled thermostat the heat turns itself down at night, at whatever hour you wish. Then, at the time you want in the morning, the furnace starts warming your home before you get up.

CONVENIENCE with GAS

No furnace to tend morning and night, no ashes to haul, no delivery problem. You never have to think about calling and ordering more fuel—never have to worry that your supply of gas might run out.

FASTER heat with GAS

A flick of the finger—and gas responds instantly! Gas is ready to burn the instant it reaches your furnace. You get heat the moment you want it!

DEPENDABILITY with GAS

Regardless of the weather, your gas supply is steady, dependable. There are no bad weather delivery delays. Cold snaps don't catch you unprepared. Gas is right there, every day, every time you need it.

QUIET, CLEAN heat with GAS

Automatic gas is exceptionally quiet, important where the heating unit is on the same floor as your living quarters. And your home stays cleaner, has less dust and grime, requires less decorating.

Testing Over

Atlas Missile Battle-Ready

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The continent-spanning Atlas missile will move out of the testing stage and into the hands of the strategic air command ready for "war-time" firing—if necessary—within several weeks, the air force said yesterday.

Joseph V. Charyk, assistant secretary of the air force for research and development, told the fourth annual ballistic missile and space symposium:

"The time when the first operational-type Atlas will be fired from Vandenberg air force base, Calif., is now at hand."

He added: "We are on the brink" of declaring the 6,000-mile intercontinental ballistic missile operational. But he would not set a date for the first firing of such a model of the missile from the central California coastal base.

One of the huge, 6,000-mile missiles was static-fired at the base, indicating it would be fired soon.

(From Cape Canaveral, Fla., the air force yesterday fired an Atlas on a 6,000-mile flight over the Atlantic on a shake-down flight. The air force said it was a successful test—the fourth in a row.)

Charyk also told of plans to launch polar-orbiting satellites from Vandenberg to provide a world-wide communications network "for the entire Strategic Air Command bombing fleet."

The satellites, he said, were included in a program to develop better world military communications to go with improved early warning systems that also are planned.

The north-south orbiting satellites would pass over every foot of the earth's surface—like the Discoverer man-made moons already launched from Vandenberg.

A satellite, Charyk added, could pick up a message as it streaked around one side of the globe and relay it to a bomber waiting on the other side of the earth.

Earlier yesterday, former air force Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle said the U.S. has almost caught up with Russia in the race to build ICBMs for operational use.

Doolittle, the leader of the famed Doolittle carrier raid on Japan in the Second World War, who is now board chairman of Space Technology Laboratories, pointed out Russia had an eight-year head start in the ICBM race.

Yemen King Beheads 'Christian Agitators'

ADEN, British Protectorate (UPI)—The Imam of Yemen has beheaded several "Christian agitators" and had others mutilated in a crackdown on liberal reforms instituted during his four-month rest cure in Rome, reports reaching Aden said yesterday.

The reports said the bearded Imam, an absolute monarch in his poverty-stricken country on the heel of the Arabian Peninsula, was determined to eliminate the "hooligans and vain-glorious fools and lackeys of foreign agents. I have been deeply dismayed to hear of killing, marauding and threats to personal safety and public peace."

"Christians and their agents" will be severely dealt with, he said. "Thank God I know them and they are now in my grasp. Some will have their heads cut off, others their legs and hands."

According to the reports from the Yemeni border, the beheadings and mutilations have begun.

There was no information on the number reported to have been forced to kneel before the sword of the executioner. Friday—the Islamic Sunday—usually is the official day for executions in Arab countries.

Observers said the crown prince's reforms were not very effective and that they caused discontent and uprisings in the army and among some tribes. Many "agitators" against the power of the Imam were reported to have fled the country.

New programs on the Yemeni radio which had been encouraged by the prince have been stopped. These included military songs, speeches by army officers, and Egyptian music.

The radio now has gone back to a schedule of religious talks, advice on clean living and the duty to obey the all-powerful Imam.

"I swear by the almighty that I shall behead every black and every white whenever a complaint is submitted to me against him," the Imam said. He said some Yemenis had received bribes from "imperialists" to encourage them to revolt.

Palace Tour Official Seeks Ottawa Post

OTTAWA (CP)—Esmond Butler has expressed the desire to join the northern affairs department after completing his duties as assistant press secretary at Buckingham Palace, it was learned Monday.

He is expected to return to Canada toward the end of the year.

Butler, 36, was appointed in March last year to the Queen's staff, first person from outside the United Kingdom to take such a position. He performed liaison duties with the Canadian government in arranging the just-concluded royal tour and that of Princess Margaret in 1958.

He also accompanied the Queen and Prince Philip on their Canadian visit.

Butler was assistant to Governor-General Massey's secretary before going to London.

Lord Russell Warns

Biological War Cheapest of All

PUGWASH, N.S. (UPI)—A noted British philosopher warned the world Monday that an even greater threat than atomic warfare threatens the human race—elimination by mass biological killing.

Lord Bertrand Russell told the opening session of the Pugwash conference on biological and chemical warfare that, although the hydrogen bomb has brought the cost of human destruction down to a few pennies per head, biological weapons make it even cheaper.

The conference, sponsored by Cleveland industrialist Cyrus Eaton, is attended by 25 scientists representing nine countries.

"It is a general feature of the progress of science and technology that it makes easier both living and dying and brings about an improvement of means of production and a lowering of prices of commodities but also lowers the price of death," Lord Russell said.

He pointed out that in the last war the cost of killing one person by military weapons amounted on the average to thousands of pounds.

"After the development of the atom bomb, the cost of extermination fell to a few pounds per head," he said. "The hydrogen bomb has brought it down much further and the cost is now reckoned in pennies. And now we are told that killing by means of biological weapons may be even cheaper."

Khrushchev Mr. Big Except to Protocol

WASHINGTON (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev may be the big boss in Russia, but as premier he's only the head of government, not chief of state. As a result of this distinction, Washington officialdom is putting together something less than the most to greet the Soviet premier when he arrives Sept. 15.

Khrushchev will step into a red carpet after his Russian jetliner alights at Washington National Airport. But the trimmings won't be as fancy as they would be if he were King Nikita or President Khrushchev.

The ceremonial troops at the airport will fire off a mere 19-gun salute, not a 21-rounder. President Eisenhower can meet Khrushchev at the White House instead of journeying out to the airport to greet him.

Khrushchev will get a free ride in a motorcade to the president's guest house, but not an official ceremonial procession.

Allied Chiefs Get Notes From Nikita

BONN, Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has told Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a personal letter the Russians still want to end the occupation regime in Berlin, authoritative informant's reported Sunday.

These informants said Khrushchev made the same point in similar messages to British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and French President Charles de Gaulle.

Informants said the tone of the Khrushchev letter was moderate but firm. The Soviet leader repeated the line taken by his foreign minister, Andrei Gromyko and rejected by the West at the Geneva foreign ministers conference.

Within Reach at Last

OFFICIAL opening to public travel on Sept. 4 of the forest access road linking Alberni and Tofino, subject to certain temporary restrictions as to hours of use, will be an event of much importance to the people of Ucluelet and Tofino and to the touring public generally. Construction of the road, partly as a government project and partly by logging operators, affords access to large areas of magnificent scenery which hitherto could be reached only by sea, down the Alberni Canal and across the often tempestuous Barkley Sound.

Because of the difficulty of getting to the Tofino Peninsula few British Columbians have ever been able to see a region abounding in attractions for travellers and holiday-makers. Many thousands of people, entranced by pictures and descriptions of the superb beaches and forest-girt bays facing the Pacific Ocean, have been eagerly awaiting an opportunity to go there, and it has been only the absence of an adequate road which has prevented the undertaking of incomparable holiday exploration. On the practical side also the lack of road communication has been the factor chiefly hindering development of the peninsula. Although Tofino and Ucluelet are on Vancouver Island their people from the beginnings of settlement have lived an isolated existence.

Not only does the new route give access to a coastal area of unsurpassed beauty but also the road itself passes for much of its length through magnificent scenery. Along the line and at Long Beach the provincial government has applied commendable foresight in placing under reserve numerous large areas suitable for camp sites and picnic grounds. On the Tofino Peninsula the best tracts of land have been set aside for public enjoyment for all time. The wisdom of this action will become more and more evident as access is improved.

Delays in building this long-promised road have caused much dissatisfaction in the Alberni and Ucluelet-Tofino districts, but no doubt all will now be forgiven. It is unfortunate that the route could not be opened to the public early this summer, but though the Labor Day weekend falls late in the year there will still be time for many people to make the journey before winter takes the pleasure out of driving.

Stirring the CD Pot

IN October there will be a federal-provincial conference on civil defence, and Ottawa authorities are cited as giving thought to what best can be done to get the public more interested. What might have been done to stir the apathy complained of would have been for succeeding federal cabinets to show some real enthusiasm themselves about the subject. There never has been the emphasis on civil defence that there has been, for instance, on finding new planes or new warships.

Yet presumably home defence is all-embracing. If a nation is to keep its end up in a wartime emergency it must carry on, else all other defence measures will soon collapse for want of support. This is what makes it seem strange that, while the underwriting and responsibility for the three armed forces belongs to Ottawa that of civil defence is scattered around. Civil defence could actually be called the fourth arm of national defence.

Yet admittedly there is a difference. The three services are compact entities enjoying central direction and discipline. By its very nature civil defence is loose and far-spread, and involves civilian interest and participation. There is sound reason and argument that the public must do its part; it must help itself as well as receive help and guidance. In emergency this would perforce be the most co-operative effort one could conceive; the trouble is to get that co-operation now.

One difficulty is to apportion the costs and responsibilities fairly on federal, provincial and municipal levels, and the October conference will be preoccupied with this problem. Much else will follow from that. If a program of shelters is favored as distinct from past policies of evacuation, then a new set of circumstances devolve. Theoretically if people were really interested they would be glad to build their own, but that seems a far-off prospect. If governments really became dynamic on the subject however the public might sit up sharply and take more notice.

Protection for the Police

ANYONE who follows the police and court news of British Columbia cannot fail to be disagreeably impressed with the growing number of instances of police officers being mauled and beaten by hoodlums when attempting to make arrests. The brutality of some of these attacks indicates something far worse than lack of respect for the forces of law and order.

There is always some risk of injury to police officers when dealing with disorderly and pugnacious youths and men; but latterly both in Vancouver and in Victoria that attitude has gone beyond resistance to arrest, expressing itself in vicious assault without provocation and apparently for the pleasure of inflicting pain and injury on officers carrying out their duty. Policemen attempting to quell disturbances or effect arrests have been outnumbered and set upon by gangs of toughs and severely beaten.

Policemen are entitled to the fullest protection that can be given them, consistent with the principles of British justice. For the most part that protection has been taken the form of punishment by the courts after an officer has been mauled. That is unfortunate for the policeman but has deterrent value—so long as the sentence is severe enough. In the latest case of assault on a police officer in Victoria one of three men who were parties to it was sent to jail for nine months. For what he did that was anything but harsh punishment. The man had a bad criminal record, but the sentence would not have been unduly severe even if his record had been clear.

Where the punishment of those who attack police officers is mild the whole effect of prosecution is nullified. Hoodlums who read of such men being dismissed with a caution are encouraged in the belief that they may resist arrest, beat up the police, and expect to get away with it.

Interpreting the News

New Eisenhower Emerges

By JOSEPH MACSWEN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

A CLEARER picture of Dwight David Eisenhower, the politician, has emerged in the last few months than has been seen before. It's a picture that inspires both admiration and enmity.

The Republican president—whose term has less than 18 months to run—has demonstrated surprising political strength during the current session of the Democratic-controlled Congress.

Democrats who had scorned him as a "do-nothing" president are confounded. This is a big change from the "glamor" candidate who rode to victory in 1953 on the strength of his tremendous wartime prestige and his famed personality.

Eisenhower gets the term "lame-duck" president because he is prevented by law from seeking a third term. According to American political tradition, such a handicap robs an office-holder of potency because, for one thing, the weapon of patronage is slipping from his hands.

Instead, the 69-year-old Eisenhower has more than ever been using his popular appeal as a club to inflict his will on Congress. He hasn't hesitated to leap-frog Congress in direct appeals to the people to support his policies.

The president—particularly a president like Eisenhower—has a built-in advantage over Congress in marshalling public opinion, and Ike has finally shown he knows what to do with it.

When Eisenhower placed his legislative program before Congress last January, he was greeted with a condescending attitude amounting almost to "tut-tut now." Here was a fatherly president that Congress was confident of being able to push around.

His pleas for a balanced budget, stricter curbs against labor union picketing and boycotts and increased federal gasoline taxes were considered impossible. Now, he appears likely to win much of what he wants on all counts.

Eisenhower's speech over a country-wide television network in support of the most stringent of three labor reform bills before the House of Representatives—resulting in a flood of telegrams and mail to Congressmen—was probably his best performance. His move was considered decisive in shoving the bill through the House.

TOMORROW night at the Armory there will gather a group of men who beat Hitler's invasion of Poland to their posts, who swung into action two weeks before Parliament put Canada officially at war.

The date was August 26, 1939, and the men were of the 5th Brigade.

That had been the way of the 5th, a magic number in Victoria's military history, over the long years.

Some 80 years previously local businessmen, worrying about the safety of this fast-growing pioneer community, had raised a volunteer rifle corps "to serve Her Majesty in the defence of this Colony."

In 1939 the inheritors of that commission were still on the job.

The volunteer riflemen became gunners, who manned old-style muzzle loaders on Beacon Hill. Other changes and reorganizations followed in the course of the years, culminating in the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, RCA.

And always they kept watch. Thus it was that they poured into the Maryhill and Albert Head forts that day two decades ago, while yet the country was at peace.

This time they stashed the night with giant searchlights, peered through powerful telescopes across the Straits, and kept the frowning muzzles of their big guns poised menacingly for destruction.

No invader came, but throughout all of the last war men of the 5th kept steadily at their stations, duplicating the role played by the brigade in the first war.

As a coastal defence regiment the 5th didn't go overseas in either war, but it sent hundreds of its personnel, gunners who volunteered for active service abroad.

The forts were a training centre as well as a watchdog, and in rotation gunners served there and then took their skills and knowledge to artillery units in Italy and northwest Europe.

They took their courage too, for the records show that many 5th officers and men served with gallantry in other formations.

The 5th has always had a proud history, one that is linked closely with the city, for as indicated above it is the unit that has been the military guardian of Victoria since the city was a founding. It numbers on its roll that great corps commander of the first war, Sir Arthur Currie, who began his military career as a gunner in the ranks of the 5th Brigade.

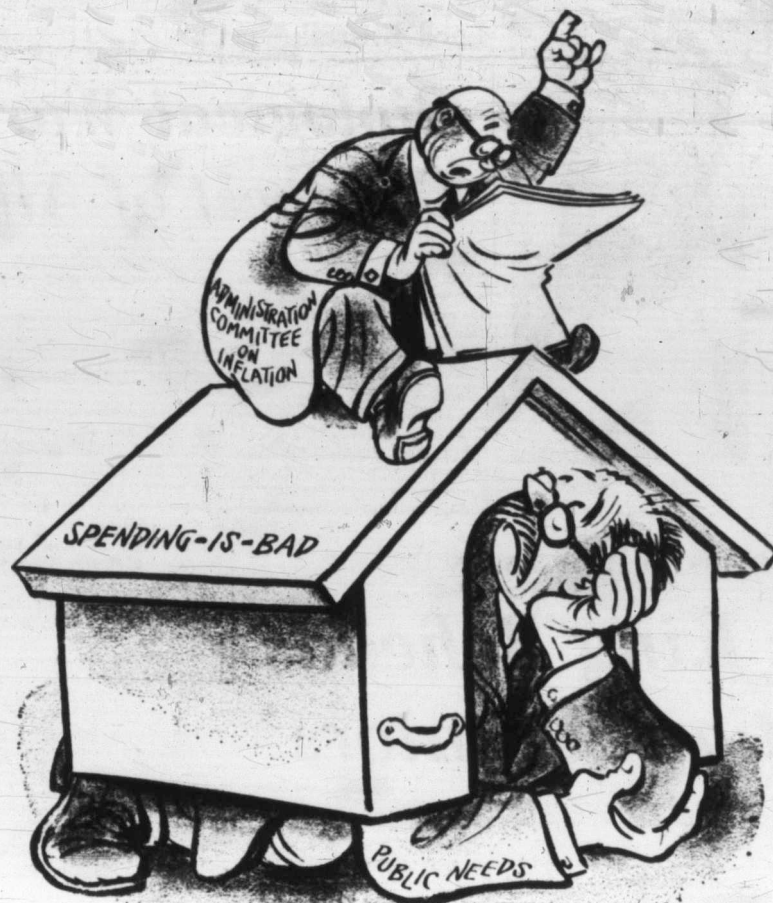

The postwar era following 1945 has changed the pattern. The big guns are gone, the forts dismantled, for defence and strategy is of different concept. But the 5th still lives on.

Today it is a mobile medium battery of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Artillery, still standing guard on the home front with all its traditions intact and its officers and men ready as they were 20 years ago to take up instant post.

One hundred years of history will envelop the men of the 5th tomorrow night as they celebrate the 20th anniversary of the mobilization of the regiment prior to the outbreak of the last war.

There will be nostalgia and fine memories to recall as former gunners meet in reunion and serving gunners look on with interest and comradeship.

The 5th, Victoria's own, will be on social parade for a notable occasion.

Reports From Ottawa

ANYBODY want to buy a lemon? The Big Three of the horseless buggy business have one each on their hands—motorized $30,000 goldfish bowls built specially to show off the Queen and Prince Philip.

You can pick up one at a fantastic bargain—perhaps as little as $25,000. Plus customs, sales and excise taxes.

Thereby hangs one of the gripes of the car makers. The royal tour officials went to them more than a year ago, explained cars would be required for the royal couple and party, and asked the manufacturers what they would like to do.

The tour officials seem to think now that they were not asking anything for free. They say they offered to put the job out to tender, low man take all, but the Big Three refused, saying provision of the cars should be an all-industry operation.

Be that as it may, the industry is sensitive to breezes blowing from the prime minister's office, under which the tour planners operated. The Dieffenbaker government cut the excise tax on cars from 10 to 7½ per cent two years ago. The industry would like more off. So obviously this was not the time to test the prime minister's notoriously low boiling point by putting a price on its services to the Queen.

It's well known that Chrysler, Ford and General Motors each took one of their most luxurious limousines and redesigned and re-engineered it at great cost. For example: those transparent plastic bubbles designed to slide over the tonneau in case of rain. One manufacturer told me his car was equipped with two—one a spare—at $3,000 each.

And if, as the result of such little things, he becomes unpopular in one resort, all the cruiser has to do is up anchor and shuffle off to another one. It's carefree holiday, sure enough.

The government flatly rejected a suggestion that it buy the three royal cars for use as VIP vehicles. And apparently they're not wanted in the royal garage at Buckingham Palace after Prince Philip's quips about American-style cars.

The Big Three are looking for buyers, but Canadians shy away after hearing they'll have to pay the rest of the taxes on the cars. So back they'll go to the U.S.—three royal lemons.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

FOR less than what it costs to build and furnish a summer cottage you can buy a small cabin cruiser. You can buy a small cabin cruiser.

In this, recent era of crowded summer resorts a great many people are realizing that a mobile home has its merits. Instead of being pinned down by the possession of a summer cottage, they are free on vast areas of Canada's connecting waterways to sample a different resort every day or two.

Since the waters are free to all, these holidayers in boats can drop in at any time on any summer resort however exclusive, and make themselves at home in the kind of company they prefer, whether the lively, water-skiing, juke-boxing, whoop-de-doodle sort of resort, or the aloof, elegant type of resort in which everybody pretends there is nobody else in sight. Indeed anchored a hundred yards off the beach of a millionaire's summer chalet, approach to which by road is marked "Private, Keep Out," the boating enthusiast can revel in the immediate proximity of the aristocracy.

Economically, boating is so much cheaper than cottaging. There are no taxes to pay to the local township, no school rates. The problem of garbage disposal which is such a nuisance at cottage resorts is no problem at all to the owner of a cruiser. He just chucks it overboard. Sanitation, which is a constant worry to the cottager, never so much as enters the head of the cruiser. Into the chuck with it, that's the stuff.

And if, as the result of such little things, he becomes unpopular in one resort, all the cruiser has to do is up anchor and shuffle off to another one. It's carefree holiday, sure enough.

Sadly, Canadian industry did not produce these cars. The top stylists and engineers of Detroit developed series of drawings of alternative plans for modifying the cars. The tour planners picked the ones they liked. U.S. custom coachwork companies carried out the alterations at costs greater than the cars' original price tags.

When the cars arrived at the Canadian border for loan to the Canadian government for royal use only, customs officials stepped in. They ran down their tariff lists to "motor vehicles, new," and assessed a staggering amount for customs, sales and excise taxes. On one car alone it was more than $13,000.

But if nothing else, the government is generous. It agreed to waive payment of the full amount. Instead, the companies have to pay one-sixtieth of the total tax for each month the cars are in Canada. Tour officials tell me that Chrysler's magnificent redesigned and rebuilt Crown Imperial is scheduled to go back to the U.S. on Sept. 15, so three months' taxes are owing the government for having been so kind as to borrow the car.

Of course, the government did accept the loan of 200 other standard Canadian-made cars, for use by the rest of the royal party, and presumably its tax take from the current sale of these vehicles as second-hand cars will be less than it otherwise would have been.

The government flatly rejected a suggestion that it buy the three royal cars for use as VIP vehicles. And apparently they're not wanted in the royal garage at Buckingham Palace after Prince Philip's quips about American-style cars.

The Big Three are looking for buyers, but Canadians shy away after hearing they'll have to pay the rest of the taxes on the cars. So back they'll go to the U.S.—three royal lemons.

Washington Angle

The Virus Of Hate

By MARQUIS CHILDS

INTO the interminable debate now going on over Premier Khrushchev's itinerary on his American tour President Eisenhower has thrown the suggestion that he visit Abilene, Kansas, where the president grew to manhood. It is a suggestion that for several reasons should be given serious consideration.

At Abilene the house in which the president and his brothers lived in their formative years has been preserved exactly as their mother left it at the time of her death. No words could possibly make as plain the humble origins from which the Eisenhower boys came. The opportunities for leadership in a free society, as represented by the Eisenhower family, would be dramatized against this background.

The plan currently under consideration is for the president to accompany the visitor to Abilene. One of the president's motives is that he himself on his journey to the Soviet Union would like to visit the Ukraine where Khrushchev was born and grew up in the small village of Kalinovka. Having shown his guest the land of his origin, the president will be in a good position to ask for a reciprocal trip to the Ukraine.

At Abilene and on the Iowa farm that Khrushchev wants to see, the problem of security will be relatively minor. And that is another motive for the Abilene visit, since those charged with responsibility for security are only too happy to ease the great burden that will be theirs in the cities with minority peoples who suffered under Soviet communism.

While the itinerary is far from being firm up, the security problem is being studied in its every aspect under the immediate direction of Elmer R. Hipsley, chief of the division of physical security in the State Department's office of security. The major reliance will be on local police forces, but Hipsley will be able to call on all the security resources of the government, with special emphasis on the Secret Service which is responsible for the safety of the president.

As the Khrushchev visit is a gamble in foreign policy, so likewise it is frankly acknowledged to be a gamble on the security side. No one can guarantee 100 per cent protection with the big crowds that will want to catch a glimpse of one of the two or three most publicized figures of our time.

Assassination, or attempted assassination, have been fairly frequent in America's past. At times of stress when issues are red hot, fanatics—in current terms, men with sick minds—have had recourse to violence. In this connection what has been aptly called the rabid right is playing a dangerous role in the effort to whip up a "hate Khrushchev" campaign. As those responsible for security are well aware, the effect this can have on sick minds is incalculable.

Anyone seeking an object lesson out of the not-too-distant past can find it in appalling detail in a recently published book, "Sarajevo" by Joachim Remak (Criterion Books). It is the story of the political murder in 1914 of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand of Austria and his wife while they were on an official visit to the town of Sarajevo which was the capital of the then Austrian province of Bosnia. The First World War might have been triggered by some other event, but the book shows how the murder led with a terrible inevitability to the catastrophe that had among its other consequences the Bolshevik revolution of 1917.

The assassins were young Serbian high school students infected with the virus of Serbian nationalism and inflamed by the hatreds that for so long made the Balkans a powder mine. Two of them at least were also suffering from tuberculosis. They were coached and armed for the murder by intelligence officials in Belgrade.

The irony of Franz Ferdinand's murder was that in his own stiff-necked way he had been working to give more autonomy to the various minority groups in the Austro-Hungarian empire. He hoped in this way it would be possible to moderate some of the stresses and strains and make the empire more acceptable. To frustrate this effort the Serbian nationalists plotted Franz Ferdinand's destruction.

The book has a horrible fascination as the reader follows one blundering stupidity after another, with both the victims and the poor, sick instruments of their assassination moving like automatons to the rendezvous with death. The security for the visit of the archduke was shockingly indifferent.

Altogether it is a timely essay in what not to do, with the consequences written large in the history of 1914 and after.

Who Helped Whom?

SOME Americans have expressed appreciation for Canada's help in building the St. Lawrence Seaway.

To keep the record straight, Canada was going to do the whole thing alone, and not until then did the U.S. lift a finger. When it asked to help, Canada agreed to make it a partnership affair.

Of the total cost of $458,000,000 Canada contributed 72 per cent and the U.S. 28 per cent. Most of the mileage and seven of the locks are in Canada. Canada could easily, and may have to, duplicate that part of the seaway now in the U.S., making an all-Canadian route.

Letters to the Editor

Insatiable Greed

Arbitration courts whose findings are not backed by the law of the land are simply a waste of the taxpayers' time and money. In all other phases of our national life disagreements between individuals and corporate bodies have to be settled in a court of justice—especially so if there is the slightest possibility of intimidation or violence resulting therefrom. Strikes by union workers today contain elements for violence and intimidation of the worst form.

You cannot justify a body of men placing a guard around the premises of an industrial concern and refusing to allow work to proceed until their inordinate demands are acceded to. Too often such action is accompanied by violence to man and property and many end in the utter ruin of the industry concerned and considerable loss to the nation.

There might be some justification for picketing if, after a duly authorized board of arbitration has brought in its finding, management declined to abide thereby, and can show good cause for the refusal—not otherwise.

The working man (?) today has become soft, flabby, lazy and choked with insatiable greed. Every year or two he demands a new contract with more pay, fewer hours of work (but no reduction in pay thereby) and all sorts of fringe benefits. Never before has he been so well off (or should I say worse off); never has he been so dissatisfied.

Babe Ruth League

Now that the great tournament is over, I would like to say to the provincial government and the municipalities of Saanich and Oak Bay that it is their most generous donations that really make the success of a tournament. The merchants who contributed through the printed program made it one of the best yet. Members of the public billeting the visiting teams showed such hospitality that they went away saying it was out of this world.

Our hats are off to the general public for the wonderful support they gave to the games, to make it the largest crowd since "pro" ball days.

CCF-Labor Engagement Faces Test

OTTAWA (CP)—Political eyes are turned on Winnipeg this week where the down-trodden CCF and the potent Canadian Labor Congress will try to forge the basis of a new party.

What happens to the political future of the proposed left-of-centre group largely depends on how adroitly matters are handled by backroom strategists at what is described as a three-day "seminar" opening Friday.

Conflicting outlooks will have to be reconciled. Possibly, the socialist adherents will have to do some backing away from socialist dogma to gain the support of unionists—and there are many of them chilly to the socialist idea.

Proof Needed Hospital Bills 'Not Padded'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Hospital costs, at an all-time high—will continue to spiral at about five per cent a year, the new president of the American Hospital Association said Monday.

To assure the public its hospital bill "isn't being padded," Dr. Russell Nelson of Baltimore said he favors a "bank-examiner" system for hospitals.

It is understandable that "the public will resist further increases in hospital costs," said Dr. Nelson, director of Johns Hopkins Hospital.

That is why, he said, the bank-examiner system, "functioning something like the Good Housekeeping seal of approval, would help to clear the air."

Cabbie 'Raced' To Small Fine

MONTREAL (UPI)—Taxi driver Jacques Courville is thanking his lucky stars for an ancient bylaw still on the statutes.

He was arrested for speeding, not under the Motor Vehicle Act, which would have cost his livelihood, but under a turn-of-the-century bylaw used to prevent horse-racing in the streets. Fine was $40.

The Intimate Life of JOAN CRAWFORD

She was born poor. Her childhood was miserable. Her career began in a chorus line. Today, she has four children, all adopted... one always a serious behavior problem. Her clothes cost her $50,000 a year. Her fourth husband died suddenly a few months ago. She's a real movie queen—and whatever else she is, she's tough. Now, September McCall's reveals for the first time the complete story of Joan Crawford's life... explores the emotional depths of this legendary woman. It may be the last such story you'll ever read. They don't come like Joan Crawford any more. Read September McCall's, on sale now.

CAPT. JAMES ARMSTRONG... resign or be fired

Captain's Paradise Lost

LONDON (UPI)—The veteran skipper of the Cunard liner Britannic has been fired for allegedly "paying too much attention" to women passengers at his captain's table.

A Cunard official confirmed Capt. James Armstrong, 55, was dismissed two months ago after being told he could resign or be fired, and added: "It's entirely a matter between Capt. Armstrong and ourselves."

Armstrong, 30 years with Cunard, was to take over the 35,000-ton Mauretania this year and the giant liner Queen Elizabeth within three years.

But the captain's paradise was ended, the Daily Express said, because of alleged incidents on a recent New York-Liverpool run involving "some of the women passengers."

Several Cunard officers, according to the newspaper, called his dismissal "heartless and out of all proportion to the alleged offense."

LONDON (AP)—The Anglican bishop of Southwark sat before the high altar of a locked church Sunday to denounce a 72-year-old priest he had dismissed for practising Roman Catholic rites.

As the bishop attacked him, Rev. Rice Alforth Harris, for 33 years in charge of St. Andrews Mission Church in suburban Carshalton, was bound for a vacation in west England.

"My message to the Church of England for its health and happiness," Harris declared earlier, "is 'Up with the Pope.'"

The bishop, Dr. Arthur Mervyn Stockwood, went to

All Saints, Carshalton's parish church, to preach the morning service.

Afterwards, sitting in front of the high altar, he denounced Harris for "grievous damage to the Church of England."

"For many years the clergy of the parish openly and flagrantly disregarded the teachings and rules of the church they are committed to serve," he said, adding:

"Unfortunately some, in spite of undoubted personal virtues, behave as though the Reformation had never happened."

Bishop Stockwood charged that Mr. Harris disregarded the Anglican Prayer Book and used a form of the Catholic mass.

As the bishop spoke, friends of the ousted clergyman protested outside and hammered on the locked door. They weren't allowed in because their names were not on the church register.

Asked whether many people had been converted to Roman Catholicism as a result of Mr. Harris, Bishop Stockwood exclaimed:

"Perverted, not converted."

Bishop Broadcasts Birth Control Plea

LONDON (AP)—A bachelor bishop defied protests from MPs and went on the air Sunday night to appeal for funds for a society advocating birth control.

Dr. Arthur Mervyn Stockwood, 50-year-old Anglican bishop of Southwark, said over the BBC:

"If a family is to be happy and successful it must be sensibly spaced and planned."

The bishop's views stirred up debates in Parliament and numerous members tried to keep him off the air.

The BBC broadcast went on as scheduled.

"We had eight telephone calls protesting against the bishop's talk," a BBC spokesman said later. "That is a negligible number."

Scrap Iron May Ransom Beautiful Old Battleship

SEATTLE (AP) — Is the battleship West Virginia worth her weight in scrap iron? A Seattle auto wrecker says she is. He says he and 104 other guys are willing to put up the scrap to save her from the 'scrapheap.'

The West Virginia, smashed in the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor but later rebuilt, is now at the Puget Sound naval shipyard in Bremerton, Wash.

Last week, the navy sold her to a New York metal company for $781,289.89. The company said it would scrap the battleship on the west coast because she's too big to go through the Panama Canal.

"It's a crime," said Trudeau. "She's a beautiful vessel. They just don't make them like that any more."

So Trudeau, who has long cherished the dream of a floating museum, got busy on the telephone.

By Sunday, he said, he had put together a group of 105 men — junk merchants, farmers, automobile dealers who had pledged a thousand tons of scrap.

He fired off a letter to the Union Metals and Alloys Co. of New York offering equal tonnage of scrap for the big battleship.

Where is the scrap coming from? Well, said Trudeau, an automobile dealer promised 25 old cars. Farmers pledged their rusty old ploughs. Carnivals and lumber mills chipped in the obsolete equipment, and so on.

How much will it take to ransom the West Virginia? "I don't know," said Trudeau. "I never weighed a battleship."

Police Clubs Stop Women On March

DURBAN, South Africa (Reuters) — Club-swinging police charged 200 stone-throwing African women Monday as the wave of anti-government violence continued in Natal province.

The women marched to Camperdown to tell their grievances to a native affairs commissioner.

He refused to see them and police said they should disperse.

The women then began hurling stones and were dispersed by the nightstick charge.

SIR THOMAS AND LADY BEECHAM ... "inward terror and quaking heart"

Sir Thomas Tells All

'Monstrous' Proposal Dismayed the Lady

LONDON (UPI) — Conductor Sir Thomas Beecham, 80, says his proposal of marriage to his 27-year-old secretary was "preposterous, incongruous, even monstrous."

Beecham married Shirley Hudson secretly in Switzerland, Aug. 10, then announced the wedding in a terse notice in The Times last week.

Sir Thomas yesterday told about putting the question to the bride's parents.

"I went along to see them and said I would like to talk about a proposition which was preposterous, incongruous, even monstrous," he said.

"My wife had been closely associated with me in business for nine years. In July, I realized there was something closer and a bit more personal in our friendship. That's when I decided to see her parents."

"They were so dazed by the oratorical fireworks of mine that finally they left it to their daughter to decide."

Then Sir Thomas got to the proposal itself.

"I approached the problem with all trepidation, with inward terror and quaking heart," he said. "When I finally asked Shirley, she received the question with equal dismay."

The conductor, who has been married twice before, said that "the older I get, the more I appreciate the state of matrimony."

Rescuers Reach Peak, See Climbers Die

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — Exhausted rescuers clambered up the gale-swept face of an almost perpendicular 1,000-foot cliff Monday to reach two youths who had been stranded more than 24 hours — and saw them die.

Word was flashed back by portable radio to rescue headquarters beneath the profile of "the old man of the mountain" — in the White Mountains — that two young Connecticut men had been found.

The rescuers said they were bringing up warm clothing and food, but that the boys were in bad shape and delirious. Then came a brief message.

Family Safe Near Quake

ANACORTES, Wash. (AP) — A letter arrived here Sunday from the Virgil Keltz family, dated and postmarked two days after the Montana earthquake in which eight persons in the party had been feared lost.

Shortly afterwards, the Red Cross announced it had located the family at Jumping Horse Ranch near Ennis, Mont., in the quake area.

Written by Mrs. Virgil Keltz Sr., to her daughter, Mrs. Roy Maracich, the letter contained no mention at all of the quake which shook Yellowstone Park and killed at least 10 persons.

Tibet Dying Kingdom

NEW DELHI (AP) — Tibet's struggle against Communist China has cost 80,000 lives and the Himalayan kingdom is heading toward extermination, the Dalai Lama says.

"With more Chinese than Tibetans now in my country, the complete extermination of the Tibetan race in its own motherland now is in progress," the god-king said Sunday at his exile home in Mussoorie.

Tibet's youthful ruler said he had every reason to believe the Chinese have arrested the Panchen Lama, Buddhist leader the Communists installed as a puppet in his place.

"After all the Panchen Lama is a man with feeling for his country, people and religion," the Dalai Lama said.

"His father is a man of strong will and has been loyal to the people and the religion of Tibet, and the Chinese must have tortured him, and this would have affected the Panchen Lama's feelings."

"There has been no confirmation of earlier reports in Indian newspapers that the Panchen Lama is heading a new anti-Communist revolt in the Himalayan land."

Dodgers Now in Second Place As Giants, Braves Shut Out

Los Angeles Dodgers moved into second place in the National League last night, beating Philadelphia Phillies, 8-2, on four-hit pitching by Sandy Koufax as both San Francisco Giants and Milwaukee Braves were shut out.

Koufax struck out 13 and Gil Hodges, who returned to full-time action only Sunday after missing nearly a month with an ankle injury, drove in ing up a pitching duel between Cleveland's Jim Perry and Tom Brewer. His second helped Cleveland to a 6-2 victory in the second game.

NOT ENOUGH BATS
Since March 21, when he was obtained from Detroit for veteran outfielder Larry Doby, Francona, a 254 hitter last year, has driven in 64 runs, hit 17 homers, and piled up a league-leading batting average of .379. However, he will not get enough at bats to qualify for the official, top spot.

Ironically enough Doby, sent down to San Diego, broke his ankle sliding into third base after hitting a triple against Sacramento, and is through for the season.

Under the rules which were in effect three years ago, Francona, who has 325 total appearances at the plate, would almost certainly win the title with 400 official trips.

But under this year's regulations which fix a minimum of 477 total appearances, he has no chance to make the required total by the end of the season.

Harvey Kuenn of Detroit trails Francona but officially leads the league with a .337 average.

In the highlight of Sunday's National League action, Pittsburgh Pirates swept two games from Los Angeles Dodgers, 9-2 and 4-3 in 10 innings.

Elroy Face won his 16th straight this season and his 19th consecutive game since May 30, 1958, by taking over in the 10th inning of the second game. He needs only three more wins to tie the Babe Marquard record of 19 in a season.

five runs with a bases-loaded single and a two-run homer. Eleven Dodgers also fanned, eight failing to relieve Jack Meyer, and the total of 24 equals the major-league record for a nine-inning game.

Meanwhile, Bob Friend of Pittsburgh Pirates took his usual pounding, but scattered 12 hits so effectively that he blanked the Giants, 6-0, putting a third strike past Willie McCovey three times.

Milwaukee took a 3-0 lacing from Chicago Cubs, who got six-hit pitching from Bob Anderson and a homer by Tony Taylor in beating Lew Burdette.

SOX WIN AGAIN

Chicago White Sox extended their American League lead to two games by beating New York Yankees, 4-2, to give them a series edge over the Yankees for the first time in 34 years. Jim Moore led the Sox with three singles, driving in two runs and scoring a third.

In the only other game, Gus Triandos put on a tremendous slugging spree to drive in seven runs and lead Baltimore Orioles to an 11-0 victory over Detroit Tigers.

The hours directly to Recreation Minister Westwood.

Triandos, a former Yankee, hit a grand slam homer, a two-run homer and a pair of singles. His grand slam homer highlighted a six-run rally in the fourth inning in which the Orioles got seven straight hits. Knuckelbarger Hoyt Wilhelm coasted to his 13th victory.

TOP STEALER
Another highlight of the day's play was the antics of Luis Aparicio for the White Sox. In the seventh inning he drew a standing ovation from a crowd of 21,923 when he walked, stole second, stole third, and scored on an infield hit. He has now stolen 42 bases in 32 tries this season.

On Sunday, Tito Francona continued to make Frank Lane look like a trading genius. He hit two home runs for Cleveland Indians Sunday. His first came in the ninth, driving in and gave the Tribe a 1-0 victory over Boston, breaking up a pitching duel between Cleveland's Jim Perry and Tom Brewer. His second helped Cleveland to a 6-2 victory in the second game.

Accent Missing On 'Italian' Team
BILSTON, England (Reuters)—Things got a little balled up at the ladies soccer game here.

A visiting aggregation billed as "the Italian ladies touring team Benefica" raised a few eyebrows in the stands Saturday night as its members yelled "To me, Kath" and "Have a go, Dot" in the not-so-Italian accents of Lancashire.

Fans demanded an explanation. The local promoter said Monday he saw the team name "Benefica" on its letterhead asking for a match. After he wrongly assumed the squad was Italian, the game was billed that way.

The visitors actually were from Lancashire and their name isn't even Italian—it's Portuguese.

Farmers Get Clutch Hurling To Reach Softball Showdown

Farmer Construction, leaning heavily on the pitching of left-hander Don Lyon, came up with one-run victories Sunday and Monday as the Senior Open Softball League's Section One playoff tournament was narrowed to two teams.

Lyon, taking over with his club trailing 5-1, pitched six scoreless innings Sunday in leading Farmers to a 7-5 upset win over Gorge Hotel. Monday it was Lyon who replaced playing-coach Bud Ross in the eighth and set down a promising Mayo Lumber rally as Farmers held on for a 6-5 win. Farmers, with a 4-1 record, meet D & D Tire tonight at 6:30 at Central Park. D & D, surprise of the double-elimination tourney, are 3-0 and could win it all tonight.

Should Farmers win, a final game would be played Wednesday night.

In eliminating Gorge, Farmers performed a trick other Victoria teams have been trying to do for six years. This is the first time since 1953 that Gorge Hotel has not represented the league in B.C. playoffs.

A second Sunday game saw Mayo eliminate Morrisons 5-3. Section II play at Heywood last night produced a 5-4 win for Pat Ray Navy over Tudor House. Tudor House had won the opening game of the best-of-five Senior 'C' final 9-4 Sunday.

Upsets Mark Opening At Lawn Bowl Meet

TORONTO (CP)—It was a day of upsets as the Canadian lawn bowling championships opened Monday at the Boulevard Club. The events wind up Wednesday.

In first-round singles play, John Linford of Lachine, Que., 1956 and 1957 singles champion, was defeated by J. K. Crozier of Toronto.

Three members of the 1958 champion rink from Manitoba, G. Binnie, and D. Binnie of Winnipeg and W. E. Calder of Norwood, along with G. Neilson of Winnipeg, were defeated 22-21 by the British Columbia rink of William Gavin, M. M. Nelson, John Gavin and Thomas Moorecroft of Vancouver.

However, British Columbia's doubles contingent of Sam C. Gardiner and R. L. Williams of North Vancouver saved the day for the Westerners by defeating the Calgary duo of C. Rickson and W. Malin, 19-17.

Teams from Vancouver and Burnaby, B.C., have won the doubles tournament for the last four years.

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)
Silky Sullivan is through with racing as a competitor.

The big heart-throb colt, who used to thrill racegoers with his electrifying finishes from away back in the pack, has had a recurrence of the tendon trouble that sidelined him from time to time.

Co-owner Tom Ross said Monday night he will send Silky to his ranch for good, for stallion duty.

Hypnotic Wire Fails

Hypnotists have been hired in the past in an attempt to give teams in various sports a "lift," but an altogether new twist was added when a soccer team received this treatment by telegram. The experiment was a miserable failure.

Gloucester City is the English club that recently engaged hypnotist Henry Blythe to mesmerize the players into a winning combination. Blythe's first meeting with the players came prior to the club's first game and Gloucester scored a 3-1 win.

Gloucester travelled to Cambridge Monday but the hypnotist missed the train. Annoyed but resourceful, Henry wired the team. "That Blythe spirit will be with you tonight just the same so go out and win win win."

Gloucester lost 2-1 to Cambridge.

Heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson wants his rematch with Floyd Patterson postponed until early 1960 with Los Angeles preferred as the site.

The information came to light while translators and typists were working on a new contract for the rematch, a contract that is expected to be signed soon.

"Our demands have been met and all that remains is for our lawyers to check the translations," said Johansson's advisor, Edwin Ahlquist.

Earlier rematch dates suggested were October and November. Previously, a Sept. 22 rematch at New York had been rejected by Johansson.

FIVE POLICEMEN and an eight-year-old boy were injured Sunday when about 6,500 fans rioted after a soccer match at Toronto. Apparently incensed at a referee's decision, mobs of stone-throwing people swarmed onto the field and clashed with 16 officers on duty. One policeman fought his way through a milling crowd to a call box. About 35 officers arrived shortly after and three arrests were made.

Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League have fined outfielder Bobby Wilson for benching himself in the first inning of a recent double-header.

MARLENE STEWART Streit of Toronto advanced to the second round of the U.S. women's amateur golf championship by downing Alice Gray of Ardmore, Pa.

5 and 3. Other Canadian winners were Mrs. Betty Cole of Edmonton and Judy Darling of Montreal. Calgary's Rae Milligan was eliminated, losing a 19th hole decision to Phyllis Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla. Import ends Buddy Mayfield and Glen Higginbottom were released by Ottawa Rough Riders. The pair had asked for a tryout with Ottawa after being cut by Green Bay of the National Football League. Cleveland Indians have recalled outfielder Dave Dillard and pitcher John Briggs from San Diego and outfielder Carol Hardy from Seattle.

BOBBY LAYNE, quarterback of Pittsburgh Steelers of the NFL, was jailed and charged with drunken driving. He was released after posting a $300 bond. His case will go before the Travis County courthouse at Texas.

Pat Abruzzi hopes to get a tryout with New York Giants of the NFL after being cut by Calgary Stampede.

SUSAN BUTT
... major victory

Susan Butt Captures Ontario Tennis Title

TORONTO (CP) — Canada beat Australia in the Ontario international tennis championships Sunday—and it took a woman to do it.

Marie Martin, 36-year-old reinstated amateur from Melbourne, wasn't Australia's best, but she was good enough to win the Canadian open title two weeks ago in Quebec City.

But on Sunday she lost 6-4, 7-5 to 21-year-old Susan Butt of Victoria in a match which should put Susan at the top of the ladder in Canadian women's tennis.

Susan, a University of British Columbia arts student, toured the Florida and Caribbean circuits in 1958 and the United States midwestern circuit last winter.

Playing for safety on the windy clay courts of Toronto's Boulevard Club, Susan led 4-1 in the second set, missed game point, watched Miss Martin level it at 5-5, then ran two straight games to take the set 7-5.

Miss Butt, who ousted Vancouver's Ann Barclay, 6-3, 6-4, in Saturday's semifinals, was defeated in the semifinal round of the women's doubles, straight sets by Martha Hernandez of Mexico and Texan Marilyn Montgomery.

Five-Match Sweep For English Side

LONDON (Reuters) — England completed a sweep of its five-match cricket test series with India Monday, whipping the visitors by an innings and 27 runs.

It was the first time in the long history of cricket that England has won all five matches in a series.

Australia had been the only country to achieve that feat before — against England in 1920-21 and South Africa in 1931-32.

The Indians, who scored 140 in their first innings, were dismissed for 194 in their second. England made 361.

Raghu Nath Nadkarni, who fought hard against the England attack Saturday, was out Monday morning for 76, with only seven runs added to his score. Jaysing Ghopade, who had helped him put on 53 for the sixth wicket, was dismissed four runs later for 24.

Freddie Trueman hurried the finish by taking the last three wickets for eight runs in four overs.

Leicestershire 143 and 148 for 7; Hampshire 250; Worcestershire 231 and 97 for 1; Lancashire 422 for 9 declared; Somerset 248 and 1 for 1 wicket; Surrey 288 for 7 declared; Sussex 360 for 4 declared; and 58 for 2; Derbyshire 285; Glamorgan 249 and 36 for 1; Northamptonshire 323; Glamorgan 2 points; Warwickshire 195 and 70 for 3; Essex 330; Nottinghamshire 222; Gloucestershire 294 for 8 declared; Yorkshire 35 and 141 for 7.

Fill-In Goaltender Halts Jokers' Plans

NANAIMO — An amazing display of goaltending by substitute Bud Petersen sparked Calder's Bluebirds of Vancouver to an 11-5 win over Victoria Jokers here Sunday and enabled the mainland club to advance to the B.C. senior "B" lacrosse final.

After entering the game at the start of the second period, Petersen blocked 18 of 19 shots and his mates responded by rallying from a seven-goal deficit to win the game and the total goal series 17-14. Victoria had won the opening game 9-6 Saturday night.

Victoria had taken a 4-3 first-quarter lead Sunday and appeared well on its way to winning the two-game series when Petersen came in to replace Stan Brown.

Vancouver now advances to Armstrong and the B.C. final next weekend.

HOW YOUR LIVER BILE BREAKS DOWN FAT

Laboratory tests have now proved that liver bile emulsifies fat... actually breaks it down. It is an established medical fact that when liver bile is added to fatty solids, the fat is broken down and forms a smooth, easy-flowing mix.

In your body, precious liver bile helps break down fat the same way. Many foods reach the digestive tract as undigested fatty solids. Your golden liver bile helps break down this fat... unblocks it... for easier and more complete digestion.

Carte's Little Liver Pills exclusive formula of natural, vegetable ingredients relieves irregularity gently and effectively. At the same time, it actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat in your body.

So when you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need a laxative, get Carte's Little Liver Pills. Remember, Carte's not only relieves irregularity, but actually improves the flow of liver bile needed to break down fat.

Killed

Deputy Coroner Dr. John H. Moore said last night he made no recommendation regarding traffic regulations on the Tunnel Hill stretch of the Malahat where a Victoria woman died Sunday in a car crash.

His inquiry report was made to the attorney-general's department.

Death of Mrs. Evelyn Sylvia Nicholson, 27, of 27 Boyd, whose southbound car ran into roadside gravel then collided with a northbound Alberta car, was ruled "accidental death."

There will be no inquest on the latest of three fatal accidents this summer in the same general area.

Four occupants of the northbound car were treated for injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital.

RCMP said the scene of the accident was in an area marked "Slow to 45 m.p.h." for southbound cars and that the speed limit there for northbound cars was 50 miles an hour.

Edmond C. Jones, 64, of Springbank, a Calgary suburb, driver of the other car, was treated for head bruises and a shoulder injury and discharged.

His wife, Mrs. Edna Jones, 56, is in good condition in hospital with a chest injury, while their daughter Phyllis,

Ambition Achieved

After Nine Years
RCMP Chief Back

It took almost nine years, but the Royal Canadian Mounted Police finally sent one of its officers back to a city he's had his eyes on since December, 1950.

He is Supt. Frank S. Spalding, just arrived here to replace Supt. J. R. W. Bordeleau in charge of criminal investigation in the force's huge "E" Division, covering British Columbia.

In August of 1950 Supt. Spalding, then inspector at Peace River, Alta., was brought here to Victoria to help in the amalgamation of the old B.C. Police with the RCMP.

"I left Victoria," he recalled yesterday, "on a mild, light-raining, trench-coat-type December evening and arrived back at Peace River in the midst of typical 45-below winter."

Supt. Spalding got an early start in the north. Son of a former deputy commissioner of the RCMP, he was determined from boyhood to join the force and serve in the far north. He did.

He joined in 1931, and his first posting was to Ellesmere Island, opposite northern Greenland and well inside the Arctic Circle.

The years between have taken him to New Brunswick, Quebec, Ontario and all three Prairie provinces. He was commissioned sub-inspector in 1946, moving from a detachment at Killarney, Man., to Regina RCMP headquarters.

He became officer in command of Regina sub-division until 1949; went to Peace River (with Victoria interlude) until 1951; to Ottawa as senior personnel officer until 1956; attended National Defence College for a year, then was officer in charge of CIB for the force at Winnipeg until posted here.

Supt. and Mrs. Spalding have three children. Son James is a sub-lieutenant in the Royal Canadian Navy, now stationed at Hamilton, Ont. Son Frank, Jr., and daughter Sandra are in high school, and will be continuing their studies here.

Set Dance

A free dance for striking IWA members and their wives, husbands and friends will be held Friday in the CCF hall on Douglas.

Members are asked to present their union cards at the door. The dance from 9 p.m. to midnight is being organized by the entertainment committee of Victoria IWA Local 1-18.

Music both modern and old-time will be provided by a voluntary group of IWA members. Women members will supply coffee and sandwiches.

On Island

First
Polio
DeathSister Victim
Recovering

One of Vancouver Island's only two cases of polio died at Royal Jubilee Hospital Saturday, within a few feet of where her sister was reported doing well in another iron lung.

Dead is Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, 23, Duncan, wife of Staff Sgt. William Gibbs, a radar-electronics technician with the U.S. Air Force in Alaska, and mother of two small children.

NEAR DUNCAN

Mrs. Gibbs had been staying with Mrs. Verne Erickson, 26, the sister first stricken by polio, on Maple Bay Road near Duncan, while Mrs. Gibbs' husband was up north.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Erickson, expecting a baby in four months, was brought to Royal Jubilee Hospital. She has been in an iron lung since.

Friday evening Mrs. Gibbs was also brought to Victoria, where her case appeared normal and where hospital authorities said every precaution was taken by members of the medical polio "team."

SHOCK TO DOCTORS

Death of Mrs. Gibbs at 2:30 a.m. Saturday was described as a shock to the doctors of the team, who had not lost a patient since two died in 1955.

Both her father, Arthur Morant, 1874 Forrester, and Dr. Murray Anderson, Royal Jubilee medical director, said it was understood Mrs. Gibbs had had "some polio vaccine but it is not known how much or when."

This vaccine may have been administered while Mrs. Gibbs was in the United States.

'BAD BATCHES'

It was emphasized that while some "bad batches" of vaccine were administered during heavy demand in the U.S. a few years ago, vaccine administered in Canada was only of the purest.

Now staying with his wife's people in Duncan, he will return with his children to his home in West Virginia following the funeral. The children are Michael, aged 2, and David, five months.

SATISFACTORY

Mrs. Erickson, 26, described by doctors as in "satisfactory condition," is the mother of four children and is expecting a fifth. No complications are expected to arise from the birth if Mrs. Erickson is still confined to the iron lung.

'Triumphal
Entry'
For Trekka

Plans for a "triumphal entry" to the Inner Harbor by round-the-world yachtsman John Guzzwell of Victoria are being drawn up by Chamber of Commerce officials.

Sam Lane, chairman of the chamber's tourist trade group, said last night, "It would be scandalous to let this young man return unheralded after the feat of navigation he has performed."

Guzzwell, 29, is nearing the end of a globe-circling voyage of more than 32,000 miles along in his 20-foot sailboat, Trekka.

Tentative plans so far call for a civic reception, a fleet of flag-decked yachts and small craft and possibly a fire-barge shooting out jets of water from its hoses to lead the Trekka into the Inner Harbor, and a dinner at which Guzzwell will be guest-of-honor.

Mr. Lane said he has received promises of co-operation from civic officials, the navy and yacht clubs.

"Admiral Rayner (Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer Pacific Coast) assured us that the navy will co-operate in every way it can," he said.

Final form of welcome isn't known at present because the date of Guzzwell's arrival in Victoria is still very much a matter of conjecture.

Latest word received in Victoria by his friends was a letter from Guzzwell postmarked Honolulu, Aug. 4. The letter said he was preparing to leave in the next few days on the last leg of the Pacific crossing.

His expected time of arrival here is now sometime around Sept. 7.

Guzzwell is an English-born cabinetmaker who built the craft, he calls a light displacement midget ocean racer.

Ferry
Ruling
Soon

Prime Minister Diefenbaker will discuss with his cabinet a proposal that the federal government pay a subsidy of up to $150,000 to keep the Victoria-Vancouver ferries running this winter.

The proposal was made by Mayor Percy Scurrell at a weekend meeting with the prime minister in Vancouver. The mayor said on his return Mr. Diefenbaker agreed it would be "a very bad thing" if the direct ferry service with the Canadian mainland was disrupted. He said the prime minister promised an answer "in about a week."

Subsidy to the CPR would cover losses if it maintained the ferry operation from Sept. 26 to next spring when the provincial government's two "fast ferries" to mainland go into operation.

Despite an earlier announcement by the CPR that its ferry service will end Sept. 26 until next summer, Mayor Scurrell said last night: "I am extremely hopeful that something will be done by the government."

The mayor also sought more federal contracts for Victoria's shipyards to prevent breakup of skilled shipbuilding crews. He said Mr. Diefenbaker was aware of the problem but made no commitments.

MRS. NICHOLSON

14, is also in good condition with head cuts and bruises.

A second daughter, Mrs. Margaret Rimmer, 23, of 841 North Park, Victoria, was treated for a face injury and admitted, then allowed to go home yesterday.

Earlier this year Linda Henley, 17, was fatally injured in a crash near the same spot, and nearby, too, James "Peewee" Bradshaw, 27-year-old lacrosse star, also suffered fatal injuries.

Tom Day, 397 Vincent, a B.C. Electric bus driver, was in a car following the Jones car at the time of Sunday's accident and rushed to Mrs. Nicholson's aid.

"She apparently lost control in the gravel. It was a big crash," he said.

"I pried the door open so we could get her out. She was caught with her head against the dashboard. The door was buckled in against her. I got a hammer and opened the door."

Other witnesses said Mrs. Nicholson's car went 60 to 70 yards along the gravel before it shot back onto the highway. "She hit the ditch and shot right across the road before I knew what happened," Mr. Jones said. Entire right side of the small Nicholson car was crushed in, and the Jones car damaged extensively.

She told police Mrs. Nicholson was breathing only slightly before being taken away in the ambulance. The crash victim was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Nicholson, who was born in Saskatoon, Sask., lived in Victoria for the past 21 years. She was employed for almost four years here as elevator operator at the Medical Arts Building, Cook and Pandora.

She is survived by her husband, Reginald William Nicholson, at home, three sons, Rhy, of Vancouver, Monte, of Victoria, and Robert, of Cedar; a brother, Delwin T. Morrison, now in the east, and five grandchildren.

Victims' Kin
Held in Jail

The son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kostynuk of Wellington, who died of knife wounds in their small home in June, has been remanded to Oakalla prison farm until Sept. 3 for sentencing on a sex offence.

Joseph Charles Phillips, 58, of Nanaimo, entered a plea of guilty when he appeared in a hearing held in camera Saturday before Magistrate Lionel Beevor Potts in Nanaimo police court.

Local Dancer Wins
Honors in Scotland

Victoria's 15-year-old Arlene Atkinson returned home from Scotland Saturday bearing Highland dancing honors probably never equalled by a Canadian girl in her age group.

An Oak Bay High School student, Arlene was one of six Canadian girls participating in Highland dancing contests and examinations held at Edinburgh.

In competition with girls from all over the Commonwealth she captured one first place, a second, two thirds and five honorable mention certificates.

And in the exacting Highland dancing examinations staged by the United Kingdom Alliance she was awarded gold, silver and bronze medals plus a coveted gold bar and plaque.

With Arlene and her mother, Mrs. J. E. Atkinson, 2661 Cadboro Bay Road, were Heather Duncan and her mother, Highland dancing teacher Mrs. Adeline Duncan.

Heather won two second places for older girls in the overseas section of the British Open. She and her mother will not be home for about a month.

Arlene said she found the competition just about as she expected to find it in the country where the colorful Highland dancing steps originated.

"But I was really thrilled that I did so well," she said.

Lindsay Complains:

Encouraged by '60'
They Drive 70-80

Abuse of new 60-miles-per-hour speed limits on some B.C. highways is causing a serious rise in road deaths, provincial motor vehicle superintendent George Lindsay said last night.

But some of the fast zones, including the Malahat stretch, should not be continued, he said.

Mr. Lindsay said the increased highway death toll can probably be ascribed to "drivers who used to go 55 miles an hour in the 50 zones and who now go 70 to 80 miles an hour in the 60 zones and 90 miles an hour in the 50 zones."

Highways Minister P. A. Gagliardi said last night from Kitimat that officials in his department are "making a full investigation into the relation between speed and accidents and I should have their report when I get back to Victoria sometime next week."

The motor vehicle chief denied an earlier report which quoted him as saying "I honestly believe the higher speed limit has been indiscriminately applied."

"It has been indiscriminately adopted by motorists," Mr. Lindsay said.

Advised of the earlier quotation attributed to the superintendent, Mr. Gagliardi said: "I don't think George Lindsay said that. I know George Lindsay better than that. He knows there has been no indiscriminate posting of highways department 60 miles an hour zones."

But the superintendent made it quite clear he does not agree with all of the zones chosen for 60 miles an hour speeds.

He named the Malahat Highway as one "which does not lend itself to high speeds."

In raising the speed limits, he said, "it is evident that we have encouraged a greater rate of speed than that which is posted as the legal limit."

"The government has built wider highways—magnificent highways—for the enjoyment of the people of this province. However it's becoming more apparent each day that the innocent are suffering with the offenders."

He said he believes tests should be conducted to determine where 60 miles an hour zones are practical.

Although the number of accidents in B.C. from Jan. 1 to the end of August this year was down more than 1,000 from 1958, the number of fatal accidents was up to 193 from a 1958 figure of 163.

"The fact that the number of fatalities has increased in spite of a drop in accidents proves that the higher speeds are responsible," Mr. Lindsay said.

Warren Chuckles

B.C. Loses
Vancouver!

Victoria tourist commissioner George I. Warren took time out yesterday from his interminable task of getting Victoria onto the world's maps to chuckle at a map of British Columbia which fails to acknowledge the existence of Vancouver.

"This is wonderful ... it is like a breath of spring after a bleak winter," said Mr. Warren.

The map was published as a travel feature in the Buffalo Evening News.

It shows Victoria (in large black type), Chilliwack, Kamloops and even Langley, but at the point where some 600,000 people make their home around the mouth of the Fraser River there is simply a "white void."

Mr. Warren will treasure the map as a "tonic" during such trying times as the reading of travel articles which name Vancouver as the capital of British Columbia, viewing color slides sold at a number of Victoria stores which show the "Malahat Drive in Vancouver," or listening to BBC broadcasts which move Government House to the other side of the Gulf of Georgia.

The map was sent to the tourist chief by Mrs. Edith Hawkins of William Head.

"I will forever be indebted to her," said the tourist chief.

PERSONAL MENTION

Bernstein Scores Triumph in Russia

MOSCOW (AP)—Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic Orchestra scored a smashing triumph in Moscow Saturday night. A cheering, shouting audience of about 1,100 Russians in Tchaikovsky Conservatory, one of Moscow's best concert halls, gave Bernstein the biggest ovation since pianist Van Cliburn skyrocketed to world fame in the same hall. The uninhibited Bernstein conducted with every bone and muscle in his body. He jumped up as though to pull the notes he wanted from the superb orchestra and he had the audience open-mouthed.

OAK BAY BEACH HOTEL

We extend an invitation to all persons interested in art to attend a showing of paintings in our gallery, by two of Victoria's clever artists, Winifred Lugin Fahay and Patience Birley, and sculpture by Peggy Walton Packard. Strachan-Jennings

Principal Weds Victoria Girl

A Sechelt school principal, Mr. James Strachan, married a Victoria girl in a charming ceremony in St. Aidan's Church.

The bride is the former Bernice Edith Jennings, daughter of Mrs. Edith M. Jennings, 1856 Fairburn Street.

Groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Strachan, live in Courtenay, B.C.

Rev. A. I. Avery officiated. Just before the bride left for the church, her mother gave her "something old," her grandmother's engagement ring, to be presented on Miss Jennings' wedding day.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Mr. E. R. Price, the bride chose a white crystal gown lined with tulle and accented with a bateau neckline, gathered sleeves and cummerbund.

Classmate and attendant of the bride from Ottawa Civic Hospital nursing school was Miss Pat Sigouin, gowned in Nile green organza with a bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums.

Best man was Mr. John Jeffreys and Mr. R. Price proposed the wedding toast.

Your Problems

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann: I haven't the nerve to tell this to my boss' wife to her face. This problem is so widespread that perhaps if you print this letter it will change the course of human events in thousands of families. The husbands will love you. The wives (if they have brains) will thank you. My boss is an angel. His wife phones him on the average of five times a day. She reports on every small problem as if it were a major calamity.

Here are a few samples of the "urgent" calls which must be put through immediately: "The vacuum sweeper doesn't work. The egg man didn't show up. The baby bumped his head. The roof is leaking. I have a headache. The basement lights aren't working. Someone scraped the fender this morning when I was in the beauty salon. Your mother phoned and made an unfriendly remark."

Why don't these women understand that a man at his office has a million problems of his own? Small wonder some of these dumb bunnies have trouble holding their husbands. They're thoughtless, inconsiderate and stupid. — SECRETARY TO A PEACH

Dear Secretary: In the name of the beleaguered husbands, thank you for your interesting letter. I have serious doubts that this will change the course of human events in thousands of families, however. "Phonerositis" is a complicated sickness not easily cured. The dependent female who must lean on (or punish) her husband with every minor problem has a dent in her mental fender. This requires a professional hammering out.

My Fists Clenched

Dear Ann: My sister-in-law asked if I'd care for her two little boys when she went to the hospital to have her third child. She's done me many favors and I was happy to say yes.

The second day the boys were in my home they cut a hole in the couch cover and spilled paint all over the basement. This morning they ran into our new car with a wagon and scratched the fender.

This morning by brother-in-law hinted they'd like to take a two-week vacation as soon as Marie leaves the hospital. They'd take the new baby along but want me to keep the boys because they "just love me."

I'm a wreck after four days. Shall I clench my fists and agree? — OLD HORSE BETTY

Dear Betty: You've been a good scout and taken the kids while their Mom was in the hospital. Don't let your sister-in-law ride the Old Horse to death. Why clench your fists? Simply open your mouth—and say "no."

Dear Ann Landers: I'm 14 and getting very interested in the opposite male sex. Yesterday I heard some friends of my older brother say they prefer a girl who has "an air of mystery about her." What does this mean? — PLAIN JANE

Dear Jane: Albert Einstein said "mystery is the most beautiful thing in the world." According to Webster's dictionary "mystery is the art of being close-mouthed." Put these two definitions together and you'll have a fairly good idea of what the boys mean.

Spreads to Canada

Child Tyrants Newest Danger

NEW YORK (UPI)—For years, Canadians looking to the south, have been saying the United States was in danger of becoming a matriarchy—owned and ruled by women.

And in both French Canada and English-speaking Canada, the menfolk, who still are in the majority in numbers north of the border, have taken measures quietly to keep their womenfolk from absorbing too many dangerous Yankee ideas.

ALL OF A SUDDEN

But now all of a sudden, the menace from south of the border has changed—Canadians no longer fear so much that the infiltration of American social patterns will put them under petticoat rule.

What they have cause to fear is a spread across the border of child domination.

There's a gag going around public schools in much of the United States that probably already has crossed into Canada. It goes like this: "The teachers are afraid of the principal, the principal is afraid of the supervisor, the supervisor is afraid of the parents and the PTA, and the parents are afraid of their kids. The kids, they ain't afraid of nobody."

SELF-DEFENCE

Emil Tron, president of the New York High School Teachers' Association, says child rule in schools already has reached the point where children generally feel immune to punishment in school and teachers helpless to maintain order. The New York World-Telegram and Sun reported recently that a teacher who hit a pupil even in self-defence was unlikely ever to be promoted again.

Dr. Melitta Schmeideberg of the Association for Psychiatric Treatment of Offenders in New York, told "The Reporter" magazine that "our society has allowed itself to be dominated by our children to a dangerous degree."

Will Green Bait Yanks at UN?

By LEROY POPE

UNITED NATIONS—UPI—Next to Nikita Khrushchev, who will make a speech early in the session, the most interesting personality to Americans at the coming United Nations Assembly meeting may be Canada's new minister of external affairs.

It is being taken for granted that Howard Green will come to New York for part of the session in spite of his known dislike for travel. His predecessors, Lester Pearson and the late Sidney Smith, always attended the assembly meetings.

Pearson became a towering figure at UN headquarters largely because of his forceful personality, his intellectual accomplishments and his ability as a speaker.

Pearson had enemies in the United States as well as friends. Dr. Smith hardly had time to make enemies south of the border. But Americans hear Canada's new foreign minister may turn out to be a Yankee-baiter when he comes to New York. This possibility intrigues UN delegates from all over the world, perhaps much more than it concerns Washington.

... delegates intrigued

Green is said to have visited the United States much less frequently than most Canadian politicians and to have a profound distrust of Washington, although he gets along well with Americans, notably with Ambassador Richard Wigglesworth in Ottawa.

He is described as an old-time "empire-firmer" from British Columbia. In fact, he was one of the few voices in Canada that bitterly berated the St. Laurent government for not siding strongly with Britain and France at time of Anthony Eden's ill-fated Suez invasion. Green was furious because the Canadians at UN headquarters stood instead for President Eisenhower's condemnation of the Suez venture.

The big disappointment of Green's life, Americans are told, is that the Commonwealth does not speak with one voice in the world as a great third force between Russia and the United States.

Green also has been more outspoken than many Canadian politicians in predicting that his country is destined to be a great power and has been more prickly than most Canadians about "getting under Washington's thumb."

'War Leader' Confesses Gang Killing

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 17-year-old "war, counsellor" of a teenage street gang defiantly confessed Monday he killed a 15-year-old Negro girl during a gang battle on the lower East Side, then broke down and cried when told he faced possible death in the electric chair for his crime.

John Cruz, wearing black trousers, black shirt and white tennis shoes, swaggered past his hysterically weeping mother in a police station corridor. He smirked as he admitted he fired the shot that killed Therese Gee during a "rumble" which broke a three-year-gang-war truce.

Detectives then told the boy he would be charged with murder and the sobbing began.

Therese was shot down during an apparent reprisal raid by the Forsythe Street boys after a clash hours earlier with the Sportsmen gang.

Seven teenagers were wounded in the battle. Twenty boys were arrested. Police recovered a toy gun modified to fire real bullets.

Eight Prisoners Die in Jail Fire

TOMS RIVER, N.J. (AP)—County Prosecutor Howard Ewart said Monday a disastrous county jail fire Sunday was caused by matches or a lighted cigarette passed to a prisoner in a padded cell.

He said one of two trusty prisoners handed a cigarette and matches or a lighted cigarette to a "General" Petersen, 35, held in the padded cell on a drunkenness charge.

The fire that broke out in the cell filled the jail with smoke, caused an explosion and took the lives of eight prisoners, including Petersen. Ewart said there will be a grand jury investigation of the tragedy.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

Toronto, Ont. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only $1.23 for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished quickly and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

LEARN THE SECRET OF A YOUTHFUL APPEARANCE

Gray Hair makes you look older than you really are. A new product developed in Miami, Florida, makes it possible to restore natural-looking color to gray, faded, or streaky hair without dyeing or tinting. SCOTT'S ANTI-GRAY HAIR TONE is a creamy white pomade which can be used by men and women, without worrying about shade selection. It is equally effective on all shades of hair. Will not wash out, nor rub off on clothing or pillow.

SCOTT'S ANTI-GRAY HAIR TONE contains Lanolin, and acts as a dressing and conditioner. Try it now — Hair Tone is activated by the rays of the sun, and if used as directed over a period of 10 days or three weeks, need only be used as required thereafter. Money back guarantee. Small jar $3.00; triple size $6.00. McGill & Orme, Wills-Mahood, Savage, Hudson's Bay, Eaton's Drug Dept., and all druggists.

Break-Ins Bring Jail

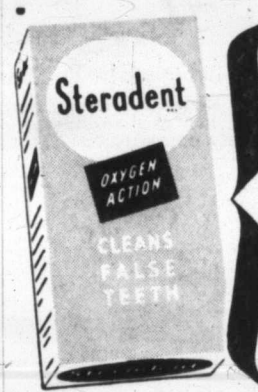

Seven concurrent sentences of eight months definite and four months indefinite in jail were handed down in two Greater Victoria police courts yesterday to a 19-year-old youth.

Granit D. Hunter, 1042 Dunsuir, was sentenced by Magistrate William Ostler in city court in the morning, and in Esquimalt court in the afternoon. He had pleaded guilty to all charges.

In Esquimalt he was charged with breaking, entering and theft once at 858 Esquimalt Road, and on two occasions at the Tudor House, 533 Admirals; in the city he was charged with attempted break-and-entry at Victoria Dodge-Desoto Ltd., breaking, entering and theft at 1015 Fort, at 760 Fort, and at 450 Catherine.

Identification by police of fingerprints at some of the premises involved led to the charges.

Here's a Fish Story —With a Difference

'Old Age Kills No One'

OJAI, Calif. (UPI)—A pioneer stress psychologist says "no one dies of old age. It is always disease."

Dr. Hans Selye, director of the Institute of Experimental Research at Montreal, said once cures are found for stress and cancer man can expect a greatly increased life span.

"No one has ever reached the limit of age," he added.

Royal Baby News 'Delights' Aunt

VANCOUVER (CP)—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, great aunt of the Queen and widow of Canada's Second World War Governor-General, had a rare and anticipated chat with reporters Monday night—mainly about the royal family's anticipated happy event.

"The family knew nothing about it until they read it in the papers," said the 76-year-old princess when asked if she had advance news that the Queen was expecting a baby early next year.

"We're all delighted, of course," she said. "It was a delightful surprise."

Had any names been decided for the royal infant?

"Good heavens, no," said Princess Alice.

Out of Tibet Indians Told

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Communist China has warned Indians not to go to Tibet this year because the Chinese are launching a "punitive expedition" against Tibetan rebels.

Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Lower House that the Tibetan capital of Lhasa was informed that Indian pilgrims would enter Tibet at their own risk.

This is a fish story with a difference. It's about an Indian boy and a young girl whose generosity brought him the bicycle he'd always wanted and probably never could have owned.

It's a simple story on the surface. Eleven-year-old Bobby Olson of the South Saanich Indian Reserve, entered Sunday's junior fishing derby with his heart set on winning the bicycle offered as first prize.

He could finish no better than second, but got his bicycle anyway because Jo-Ann Halfhide, 15, of 2639 Chambers, won it and traded him first prize for second when she saw how much the bicycle meant to him.

But they were telling the other part of the story last night at Gilbert's boathouse, where Bobby works packing bait and has been saving his pennies for the dream of a bicycle.

"Bobby had a chance to go to the derby last year," Harry Gilbert reported. "But he slept in and missed the boat. So he took no chances this time. Saturday night he walked in from the reserve and curled up in a truck with his dog to wait for the derby to start."

MILK, SANDWICH
"I gave him some milk and a sandwich before he went to sleep. When I went down to get him he still had half the sandwich, which he told me he'd saved for breakfast. He's that kind of a boy."

Bobby is small for his age but a hard worker and obviously a favorite around the boathouse. Gilbert talked him into saving his money, and when Bobby decided he wanted a bike, he went about it in earnest.

Nailed securely to the wall of the boathouse is a small oil can with a slit in the top, painted over and marked

"Bobby's Bank." Bobby's money goes into it along with contributions from his fishermen friends. Gilbert figures there must be $15 in it by now.

Now that the bicycle problem is solved, the money will go towards buying him a new outfit for school.

But it's a long way from $15 to the price of a bicycle, and Bobby, as his parents admit, would never have been able to get one on his own. He is one of a family of 10, and there are 14 children staying in the small house on the reserve.

His father, a boom man at B.C. Forest Products, is out of work because of the strike.

SO IMPORTANT
That's why it was so important to Bobby that he be on time for the derby. He and Miss Halfhide, whom he now calls "my best friend," went out on the same boat, owned by her brother-in-law, Tom Moss. Bobby caught a 10-pound, three-ounce salmon, two pounds lighter than the winner landed by Miss Halfhide.

"But he wanted that bike so much, and we all knew it, so I just had to give it to him," explained the girl, who took the second prize of a fishing kit. She does not have a bicycle of her own.

HUGGED ME
Bobby wasn't saying much about the bike last night except "My mom hugged me when she found out I won." But his dark eyes sparkled each time it was mentioned, and his actions Sunday night show how much the gift meant.

When it came time to go to bed, the bicycle went with him.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Education Minister G. A. Frecker announced Monday that opening of Newfoundland schools will be delayed at least two weeks because of the current outbreak.

Two new cases have brought Newfoundland's total to 48 this year.

More Time For Deutsch?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said Monday that Prof. John J. Deutsch may be given an extension of the 14-day period he was given by the government to attempt settlement of the seven-week-old woodworkers' strike.

Dr. Deutsch now is in the second week of the period stipulated by the government when he was appointed as industrial commissioner in the costly pay dispute.

Mr. Wicks said Dr. Deutsch so far has been unable to bring together representatives of the 25,000 striking members of the IWA and the 125 affected coastal lumber concerns.

"This will be no hurry-up job," the minister said. The University of B.C. economics professor has held meetings almost daily with officials of the IWA and Forest Industrial Relations, a management bargaining agency.

Mr. Wicks said the meetings will continue today but declined to comment on progress. The woodworkers originally demanded a 20 per cent increase in the $1.72 basis hourly wage, but later scaled this down to 12 per cent, equivalent to a 20-cent increase. The companies have offered increases totalling 12 cents over two years.

Big Blackout Blame Fixed

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York City commissioner of water supply, gas and electricity blamed the Consolidated Edison Co., yesterday for a massive power failure that blacked out five square miles of Manhattan Island occupied by 500,000 persons last week.

Commissioner Arthur J. D'Angelo said an investigation by his department showed that the utility was fully to blame for the blackout, which lasted 13 hours in some parts of crowded Manhattan.

Saanich police commission last night asked council to make every effort to hasten the establishment of a joint juvenile-family court for Greater Victoria.

Reeve George Chatterton told council the matter was being investigated by the intermunicipal committee which was waiting for information from the government.

Part of Picture Of New Nation

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday he could visualize a national energy power grid stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific to provide an unceasing flow of energy for development of the nation.

Interchanges of power are taking place between Ontario and Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Manitoba, he said. "In the Atlantic provinces, a vast power pool was being developed for December operation."

"I can visualize," the prime minister told the associated boards of trade of central British Columbia and Alaskan affiliates, "a national energy grid anchored at one end of the Hamilton River in Newfoundland and the other end on the Columbia and the Yukon."

'NEW CANADA' PICTURE
This was part of a picture of the "new Canada," he said. And Kitimat, the multi-million-dollar aluminum development hewed out of the wilderness, was a symbol of the "explosive type of Canadian development which has caught the imagination of the world."

Mr. Diefenbaker made many departures from his prepared text and ranged over a wide range of subjects.

He said the government had no tight money policy (see Page 12), that cutbacks in loans by the chartered banks cannot be blamed on the high Bank of Canada discount rate. And so long as he was prime minister small business would have as much chance as big business. Small business was the backbone of the country.

VAST UPSURGE
Any shortage of money that had developed was due to the increasing demand for loans because of the vast upsurge in national development across the land.

"Either you develop or you perish," the prime minister declared. "You cannot sit tight on a safety vault."

He dealt extensively with conservation, but said it did not mean sitting on resources "like a hen on a china egg keeping it warm for future generations of chickens that might never hatch."

"It means using resources rationally and resisting the temptation to dissipate them for a momentary advantage, a quick, one-shot profit."

FUTURE GENERATIONS
There was a responsibility to develop resources for all the citizens and for future generations.

He said all 10 provinces will attend a national conservation conference in 1960. He believed the conference would mark a changing trend in national thinking about the country's resources.

Mr. Diefenbaker arrived with his wife from Terrace, where their aircraft landed. On the 50-mile road trip to this modern mountain-valley municipality of 9,000 he got a taste of northern roads. Only part of the road is paved and the prime minister's limousine came clanking into town with its exhaust pipe dragging.

After lunch Mr. Diefenbaker toured the vast Aluminum Company of Canada plant.

But although he cast like an expert, far outdistancing the governor, he didn't get a nibble and finally quit.

"It's not the first time I've been skunked," he said as he reluctantly gave up.

John D. Out-Casts Governor
But Not a Nibble at Kitimat

KITIMAT (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker dropped affairs of state for a brief spell Monday to sink a line in the Kitimat River. But he didn't catch a thing.

Although he was already late, the prime minister had his car caravan stopped a few miles out of Kitimat en route to Terrace to accept the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to wet a line in the river bordering the highway.

He was told there were some big salmon being taken and was shown a string of four beauties as proof. The prime minister donned a raincoat against a heavy drizzle, walked to the riverbank and began casting. So did Alaska Governor William Egan, who accompanied him.

Permission Given

B.C. Power Set At Port Hardy

Provisional approval has been granted the B.C. Power Commission by the provincial government allowing the utility to provide electrical service to the north Vancouver Island community of Port Hardy.

B.C.P.C. chairman H. L. Keenlyside, in commenting on the order-in-council said that it would permit the expenditure of $500,000 for the construction of a 1,500-horsepower Diesel generating plant and distribution system to serve 140 customers.

He pointed out that the expenditure will be made only if the commission is able to complete the necessary contracts with the major customers, a logging company and the federal department of transport. Both currently generate current for their own use.

Electrical service has been provided to Port Hardy for the past several years by H. T. Cadwallader who leased two 50-horsepower Diesel generating units, and transformers from the power commission.

Its distribution system would be acquired by the publicly-owned utility.

Plans call for the construction of a 40 by 50-foot prefabricated metal building to house three generating units, and construction of seven miles of 2,300-volt distribution line. Cost of the plant will be $431,178.

END OF YEAR

Construction will begin as soon as contracts are signed with major customers, and the proposed schedule calls for the power commission to take over the electrical supply in the community before the end of the year.

When this is completed Port Hardy will become the 251st community to receive power commission service and the Port Hardy plant will be the 16th diesel generating station in operation by the publicly-owned utility.

'Tailgate' Drivers Rapped

DUNCAN—Motorists today "drive far too close" and give Magistrate A. C. Sutton "the willies."

He told S. J. Savoy, 22, of Duncan, that "it should be stopped" when he fined him $10 yesterday for following another car too close Aug. 14 on Trunk Road in the city.

Savoy pleaded guilty to the charge. Police said he drove into the rear of the car, and caused it to hit another.

Many Prizes Given

Seven-Pounder Wins Salt Spring Derby

GANGES—There were many prizes awarded to the winners on Sunday when the Salt Spring Island Rod and Gun Club held its annual fishing derby.

Men's first prize was won by G. S. Humphreys for his 7-pound 11-ounce salmon; women's first prize went to Mrs. J. B. Foubister for her 5-pound 12-ounce catch, and the prize for juniors to Kenneth Ashlee for his 6-pound 2-ounce salmon. The largest cod was caught by Dr. A. Francis.

Other prize-winners for fish caught were Walter Mailey, Victor Sampson, Ian Foubister, Mrs. MacMouat, L. Goodman, W. L. Cox, Mrs. Y. Bryant, P. D. Crofton, D. Parsons, Jack Insley, M. H. Gardner, Dr. Elwood Cox, MacMouat, Mrs. R. Vapaavuori, Ross Ritchie, R. H. Lee, M. Akerman, L. Mouat, F. Barnes. The first consolation prize, a complete camping outfit, was won by Harvey Reynolds; second, a travelling clock, by Donald Corbett; thermos, Mrs. A. Houghton; carton of cigarettes, Jeanie Currie; jigger, Nels Degnen.

The prizes were presented at Ganges by the president of the club, F. A. E. Morris, and a special prize, a tackle box, to Max Munro, an active member of the club, who is leaving his position in the B.C. Power Commission on Salt Spring Island this month and going to Burns Lake.

Victorian Wins Cup At Coombs Fall Fair

NANAIMO—Victoria agriculturist Ed Roper won the cup for the best fruit exhibit in the annual fall fair at Coombs.

Matt Van Horne of Coombs, a director of the fair, said the fruit and vegetable exhibit was "better than that at the PNE."

"What was eliminated at Coombs would be prize-winning entries in Vancouver," he said. A highlight of the fair was the large exhibit of the Boys' and Girls' Garden Club.

Danny Hersley, 11, of Nanaimo Bay won the cup again this year for top points in having the best garden and display.

This is his third win in succession and he now keeps the cup.

His brother Glen came second in point count. Mrs. Prudence Beuslinck won a cup for the best flower exhibits.

A gladioli she planted this year broke into two, growing two spikes from one bulb. One spike won a prize at the Parkville Fair two weeks ago. The second spike was judged the best gladioli at the Coombs fair.

90 Cattle Sold At Big Auction

DUNCAN—Ninety head of cattle were sold at public auction here Saturday, one of the largest sales this year.

Auctioneer T. J. Boyles said prices are "holding up well, for this time of year."

Some of the sales were day-old Jersey calves, $4 to $15; Ayrshire calves, $8 to $13; Holstein calves, $12 to $18; yearling Hereford beef, $107; milk cows, $60 to $180; weaned pigs, $5.50 to $7; butcher pigs, $32.50; bred sows, $45; sheep ewes, $11; lambs, $10; veal from $42.50 to $80.

Netted Gem potatoes, 50-pound sacks, to $1.80; early apples, to $2.25 a box; cucumbers, 10-pound boxes, to $1.20.

The use of Ontario government planes in forest protection began in 1924 with the purchase of 15 flying boats.

Duncan Street Program Starts

Flush-coating of some Duncan streets will start this week. Preparing for the work were Stan Starkowski, spreading asphalt, and Wallace MacRae, on roller, part of a crew who last week filled cracks and holes in streets. Work will consist of spreading a wash of tar that is covered with crushed stones.—(Colonist photo by Charles Thompson.)

Tolerance in Shawnigan

Not Everyone Wants Pranksters' Scalps

SHAWNIGAN LAKE—Residents here are not "after the scalps" of two Victoria boys who started a fire seven days ago that is still burning on Old Baldy Mountain.

"Many of us feel that some credit is due the boys who, when they realized their Halloween smoke bombs had started the fire, notified the proper authorities," said Pat Mason, school trustee for the area.

Yesterday he contradicted remarks by D. Mason Hurley, a trustee of the Village Improvement Commission, who said, "I've talked to a lot of people and we think the police should take action."

LOSE NOTHING

Mr. Mason also said the district will lose "nothing" by the loss of the use of the mountain which Mr. Hurley said was a favorite lookout spot in the area.

Between 50 and 60 men have been fighting the fire each day since it started late last Wednesday, and have been assisted by water "bombing planes." It is still burning.

WORKING ON SCENE

The unnamed boys, 14 and 15, tried to put out the fire after their "prank," said Mr. Mason, and since then have been working on the scene with forestry officials.

Mr. Mason said the boys "could just as easily have left the scene and no one would have known how it started, nor would it have been reported so quickly."

LEARNED LESSON

"Some credit is due them for this part of their action and I am sure they learned a lesson, never to be forgotten. Action against them only turns a prank into a crime and causes it to be hidden."

Girl Wins Long Trip

NANAIMO—Clara Taylor, 17, of Saanichton won a trip to the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto and a gold watch for her score of 877 points out of a possible 1,000 in 4-H cattle judging at the Vancouver Island Exhibition here. Her brother, Joseph, won similar honors last year.

Nanaimo Court Lifts Victoria Man's Licence

NANAIMO—A Victoria man with five previous speeding convictions in three years had his driver's licence suspended for a year in Nanaimo police court Monday.

Garry Brian Tucker, 25, 1034 Oliver, was also fined $125 for failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

His car was in a collision with another car in Nanaimo early Sunday. Damage to both cars was light.

Tucker said he left the scene because of his previous record.

Coroner Makes No Recommendation

Malahat Crash in 45-Mile Zone;
No Probe in 'Accidental Death'

Examining wreckage of a small car in which Mrs. Evelyn Nicholson, 27, died Sunday in a traffic crash on the Malahat is RCMP Const. N. R. Harvey.

Victoria
Woman
Killed

Deputy Coroner Dr. John H. Moore said last night he made no recommendation regarding traffic regulations on the Tunnel Hill stretch of the Malahat where a Victoria woman died Sunday in a car crash.

His inquiry report was made to the attorney-general's department.

Death of Mrs. Evelyn Sylvia Nicholson, 27, of 27 Boyd, whose southbound car ran into roadside gravel then collided with a northbound Alberta car, was ruled "accidental death."

There will be no inquest on the latest of three fatal accidents this summer in the same general area.

Four occupants of the northbound car were treated for injuries at St. Joseph's Hospital.

RCMP said the scene of the accident was in an area marked "Slow to 45 m.p.h." for southbound cars and that the speed limit there for northbound cars was 50 miles an hour.

Edmond C. Jones, 64, of Springbank, a Calgary suburb, driver of the other car, was treated for head bruises and a shoulder injury and discharged.

His wife, Mrs. Edna Jones, 56, is in good condition in hospital with a chest injury, while their daughter Phyllis,

MRS. NICHOLSON

14, is also in good condition with head cuts and bruises.

A second daughter, Mrs. Margaret Rimmer, 23, of 841 North Park, Victoria, was treated for a face injury and admitted, then allowed to go home yesterday.

Earlier this year Linda Henley, 17, was fatally injured in a crash near the same spot, and nearby too James "Peewee" Bradshaw, 27-year-old lacrosse star, also suffered fatal injuries.

Tom Day, 397 Vincent, a B.C. Electric bus driver, was in a car following the Jones car at the time of Sunday's accident and rushed to Mrs. Nicholson's aid.

"She apparently lost control in the gravel. It was a big crash," he said.

"I pried the door open so we could get her out. She was caught with her head against the dashboard. The door was buckled in against her. I got a hammer and opened the door."

Other witnesses said Mrs. Nicholson's car went 60 to 70 yards along the gravel before it shot back onto the highway. "She hit the ditch and shot right across the road before I knew what happened," Mr. Jones said. Entire right side of the small Nicholson car was crushed in, and the Jones car damaged extensively.

She told police Mrs. Nicholson was breathing only slightly before being taken away in the ambulance. The crash victim was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Mrs. Nicholson, who was born in Saskatoon, Sask., lived in Victoria for the past 21 years. She was employed for almost four years here as elevator operator at the Medical Arts Building, Cook and Pandora.

She is survived by her husband, Reginald William Nicholson, 47, home; three sons, Roy, of Vancouver, Monte, of Victoria, and Robert, of Cedar; a brother, Delwin T. Morrison, now in the east, and five grandchildren.

DeathSister Victim
Recovering

One of Vancouver Island's only two cases of polio died at Royal Jubilee Hospital Saturday, within a few feet of where her sister was reported doing well in another iron lung.

Dead is Mrs. Marguerite Gibbs, 23, Duncan, wife of Staff Sgt. William Gibbs, a radar-electronics technician with the U.S. Air Force in Alaska, and mother of two small children.

NEAR DUNCAN

Mrs. Gibbs had been staying with Mrs. Verne Erickson, 26, the sister first stricken by polio, on Maple Bay Road near Duncan, while Mrs. Gibbs' husband was up north.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Erickson, expecting a baby in four months, was brought to Royal Jubilee Hospital. She has been in an iron lung since.

Friday evening Mrs. Gibbs was also brought to Victoria, where her case appeared normal and where hospital authorities said every precaution was taken by members of the medical polio "team."

SHOCK TO DOCTORS

Death of Mrs. Gibbs at 2:30 a.m. Saturday was described as a shock to the doctors of the team, who had not lost a patient since two died in 1955.

Both her father, Arthur Morant, 1874 Forrester, and Dr. Murray Anderson, Royal Jubilee medical director, said it was understood Mrs. Gibbs had had "some polio vaccine but it is not known how much or when."

This vaccine may have been administered when Mrs. Gibbs was in the United States.

'BAD BATCHES'

It was emphasized that while some "bad batches" of vaccine were administered during heavy demand in the U.S. a few years ago, vaccine administered in Canada was only of the purest.

Canadian Red Cross got in touch with Staff Sgt. Gibbs when his wife was stricken, and he was flown to Victoria by jet.

Now staying with his wife's people in Duncan, he will return with his children to his home in West Virginia following the funeral. The children are Michael, aged 2, and David, five months.

SATISFACTORY

Mrs. Erickson, 26, described by doctors as in "satisfactory condition," is the mother of four children and is expecting a fifth. No complications are expected to arise from the birth if Mrs. Erickson is still confined to the iron lung.

Chamber Plans

'Triumphal
Entry'
For Trekka

Plans for a "triumphal entry" to the Inner Harbor by round-the-world yachtsman John Guzzwell of Victoria are being drawn up by Chamber of Commerce officials.

Sam Lane, chairman of the chamber's tourist trade group said last night, "It would be scandalous to let this young man return unheralded after the feats of navigation he has performed."

Guzzwell, 29, is nearing the end of a globe-circling voyage of more than 32,000 miles alone in his 20-foot sailboat, Trekka.

Tentative plans so far call for a civic reception, a fleet of flag-decked yachts and small craft and possibly a fire-barge shooting out jets of water from its hoses to lead the Trekka into the Inner Harbor, and a dinner at which Guzzwell will be guest of honor.

Mr. Lane said he has received promises of co-operation from civic officials, the navy and yacht clubs.

"Admiral Rayner (Rear Admiral H. S. Rayner, flag officer Pacific Coast) assured me that the navy will co-operate in every way it can," he said.

Final form of welcome isn't known at present because the date of Guzzwell's arrival in Victoria is still very much a matter of conjecture.

Latest word received in Victoria by his friends was a letter from Guzzwell postmarked Honolulu, Aug. 4. The letter said he was preparing to leave in the next few days on the last leg of the Pacific crossing.

His expected time of arrival here is now sometime around Sept. 7.

Guzzwell is an English-born cabinmaker who built the craft he calls a light displacement midge ocean racer.

Ferry
Ruling
Soon

Prime Minister Diefenbaker will discuss with his cabinet a proposal that the federal government pay a subsidy of up to $150,000 to keep the Victoria-Vancouver ferries running this winter.

The proposal was made by Mayor Percy Scourrah at a weekend meeting with the prime minister in Vancouver.

The mayor said on his return Mr. Diefenbaker agreed it would be "a very bad thing" if the direct ferry service with the Canadian mainland was disrupted. He said the prime minister promised an answer "in about a week."

Subsidy to the CPR would cover losses if it maintained the ferry operation from Sept. 26 to next spring when the provincial government's two "fast ferries" to mainland go into operation.

Despite an earlier announcement by the CPR that its ferry service will end Sept. 26 until next summer, Mayor Scourrah said last night: "I am extremely hopeful that something will be done by the government."

The mayor also sought more federal contracts for Victoria's shipyards to prevent breakup of skilled shipbuilding crews. He said Mr. Diefenbaker was aware of the problem but made no commitments.

"She apparently lost control in the gravel. It was a big crash," he said.

"I pried the door open so we could get her out. She was caught with her head against the dashboard. The door was buckled in against her. I got a hammer and opened the door."

Other witnesses said Mrs. Nicholson's car went 60 to 70 yards along the gravel before it shot back onto the highway. An amendment will change it to "legal tender of the United States."

The town's 1926 charter provides that all bills will be paid in gold coin of the United States.

Firefighters Gaining On Glen Lake Blaze

Forestry officials said last night that the immediate danger is past on a 50-acre bush fire which threatened a dozen homes near Glen Lake over the weekend.

He said about 30 firefighters hired by the forest service and equipped with hand pumps, yesterday continued a mopping-up operation which is expected to last "a couple more days."

Working from the fringe of the fire, the blackened men, most of them veteran loggers, were advancing upon the central portion where spot fires were still burning.

'Old Age Kills No One'

OTAI, Calif. (UPI)—A pioneer stress psychologist says "no one dies of old age. It is always disease."

Dr. Hans Selye, director of the Institute of Experimental Research at Montreal, said once cures are found for stress and cancer man can expect a greatly increased life span.

"No one has ever reached the limit of age," he added.

Royal Baby News 'Delights' Aunt

Out of Tibet Indians Told

NEW DELHI (Reuters)—Communist China has warned Indians not to go to Tibet this year because the Chinese are launching a "punitive expedition" against Tibetan rebels.

Prime Minister Nehru told the Indian Lower House that the Indian consul-general in the Tibetan capital of Lhasa was informed that Indian pilgrims would enter Tibet at their own risk.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone, great aunt of the Queen and widow of Canada's Second World War Governor-General, had a rare and amusing chat with reporters Monday night—mainly about the royal family's anticipated happy event.

"The family knew nothing about it until they read it in the papers," said the 76-year-old princess when asked if she had advance news that the Queen was expecting a baby early next year.

"We're all delighted, of course," she said. "It was a delightful surprise."

Had any names been decided for the royal infant?

"Good heavens, no," said Princess Alice.

This is a fish story with a difference. It's about an Indian boy and a young girl whose generosity brought him the bicycle he'd always wanted and probably never could have owned.

It's a simple story on the surface. Eleven-year-old Bobby Olson of the South Saanich Indian Reserve entered Sunday's junior fishing derby with his heart set on winning the bicycle offered as first prize.

GOT HIS BIKE

He could finish no better than second, but got his bicycle anyway because Jo-Ann Halfhide, 15, of 2639 Chambers, won it and traded him first prize for second when she saw how much the bicycle meant to him.

But they were telling the other part of the story last night at Gilbert's Boathouse, where Bobby was packing bait and has been saving his pennies for the dream of a bicycle when he could buy himself a bike.

"Bobby had a chance to go in the derby last year," Harry Gilbert reported. "But he slept in and missed the boat. So he took no chances this time. Saturday night he walked in from the reserve and curled up in a truck with his dog to wait for the derby to start."

MILK, SANDWICH

"I gave him some milk and a sandwich before he went to sleep. When I went down to get him he still had half the sandwich, which he told me he'd saved for breakfast. He's that kind of a boy."

Bobby is small for his age but a hard worker and obviously a favorite around the boathouse. Gilbert talked him into saving his money, and when Bobby decided he wanted a bike, he went about it in earnest.

Nailed securely to the wall of the boathouse is a small red can with a slit in the top, painted over and marked "Bobby's Bank." Bobby's money goes into it along with contributions from his fishermen friends. Gilbert figures there must be $15 in it by now.

Now that the bicycle problem is solved, the money will go towards buying him a new outfit for school.

But it's a long way from $15 to the price of a bicycle, and Bobby, as his parents admit, would never have been able to get one on his own. He is one of a family of 10, and there are 14 children staying in the small house on the reserve. His father, a boom man at B.C. Forest Products, is out of work because of the strike.

SO IMPORTANT

That's why it was so important to Bobby that he be on time for the derby. He and Miss Halfhide, whom he now calls "my best friend," went out on the same boat, owned by her brother-in-law, Tom Moss. Bobby caught a 10-pound, three-ounce salmon, two pounds lighter than the winner landed by Miss Halfhide.

"But he wanted that bike so much, and we all knew it, so I just had to give it to him," explained the girl, who took the second prize of a fishing kit. She does not have a bicycle of her own.

HUGGED ME

Bobby wasn't saying much about the bike last night except "My mom hugged me when she found out I won." But his dark eyes sparkled each time it was mentioned, and his actions Sunday night show how much the gift meant.

When it came time to go to bed, the bicycle went with him.

Polio Shuts Schools

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP)—Education Minister G. A. Frecker announced Monday that opening of Newfoundland schools will be delayed at least two weeks because of an outbreak of polio.

Two new cases have brought Newfoundland's total to 48 this year.

PROF. J. J. DEUTSCH
... no luck

Strike Mediator

More Time For Deutsch?

VANCOUVER (CP)—Labor Minister Lyle Wicks said Monday that Prof. John J. Deutsch may be given an extension of the 14-day period he was given by the government to attempt settlement of the seven-week-old woodworkers' strike.

Dr. Deutsch now is in the second week of the period stipulated by the government when he was appointed as industrial commissioner in the costly pay dispute.

Mr. Wicks said Dr. Deutsch so far has been unable to bring together representatives of the 25,000 striking members of the IWA and the 125 affected coastal lumber concerns.

"This will be no hurry-up job," the minister said.

The University of B.C. economics professor has held meetings almost daily with officials of the IWA and Forest Industrial Relations, management bargaining agency.

Mr. Wicks said the meetings will continue today but declined to comment on progress.

The woodworkers originally demanded a 20 per cent increase in the $1.72 basis hourly wage but later scaled this down to 12 per cent, equivalent to a 20-cent increase. The companies have offered increased totalling 12 cents over two years.

Diefenbaker's Dream

Vast Power Grid Seen for Canada

KITIMAT, B.C. (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker said Monday he could visualize a national energy power grid stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific to provide an unceasing flow of energy for development of the nation.

Interchanges of power are taking place between Ontario and Quebec, Ontario and Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Manitoba, he said. In the Atlantic provinces, a vast power pool was being developed for December operation.

"I can visualize," the prime minister told the associated boards of trade of central British Columbia and Alaskan affiliates, "a national energy grid anchored at one end of the Hamilton River in Newfoundland and the other end on the Columbia and the Taku."

This was part of a picture of the "new Canada," he said. And Kitimat, the multi-million-dollar aluminum development hewed out of the wilderness, was a symbol of the "explosive type of Canadian development which has caught the imagination of the world."

He said all 10 provinces will attend a national conservation conference in 1960. He believed the conference would mark a changing trend in national thinking about the country's resources.

Mr. Diefenbaker made many departures from his prepared text and ranged over a wide range of subjects.

He said the government had no tight money policy (see Page 12), that cutbacks in loans by the chartered banks cannot be blamed on the high bank of Canada discount rate. And so long as he was prime minister small business would have as much chance as big business. Small business was the backbone of the country.

Any shortage of money that had developed was due to the increasing demand for loans because of the vast upsurge in national development across the land.

"Either you develop or you perish," the prime minister declared. "You cannot sit tight on a safety vault."

Hurry Family Court Plan Saanich Board Urges

Saanich police commission last night asked council to make every effort to hasten the establishment of a joint juvenile-family court for Greater Victoria.

Reeve George Chatterton told council the matter was being investigated by the inter-municipal committee which was waiting for information from the government.

John D. Out-Casts Governor But Not a Nibble at Kitimat

KITIMAT (CP)—Prime Minister Diefenbaker dropped affairs of state for a brief spell Monday to sink a line in the Kitimat River. But he didn't catch a thing.

Although he was already late, the prime minister had his car caravan stopped a few miles out of Kitimat en route to Terrace to accept the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce to wet a line in the river bordering the highway.

He was told there were some big salmon being taken and was shown a string of four beauties as proof. The prime minister donned a raincoat against a heavy drizzle, walked to the riverbank and began casting. So did Alaska Governor William Egan, who accompanied him.

But although he cast like an expert, far outdistancing the governor, he didn't get a nibble and finally quit.

"It's not the first time I've been skunked," he said as he reluctantly gave up.

Craft May Be U.S. Plane

Wreckage of a "mystery" plane with "a possible" 11 skeletons was found at the 4,000-foot level of Mount McCreight, 20 miles northwest of Campbell River, late yesterday.

A ground search party from the RCAF Station, Comox, in a brief radio report to an overhead plane, said the aircraft appeared to be a U.S. Navy Neptune.

NOT POSITIVE

The message said the total of dead was not positive.

The wreckage was first discovered by Cpl. W. H. Glover of 409 Squadron at Comox, while he was on a fishing trip to Roberts Lake, RCAF rescue co-ordination headquarters said.

RETURN TODAY

RCAF spokesmen said there would be no positive identification of the plane until the ground party returned from the scene sometime today with serial number of the aircraft and other information.

But the crash description sounded like a grisly twin of the find in Sept. 1951, when wreckage of a U.S. Navy training Neptune with 11 on board was found at the same 4,000-foot level of the same mountain.

TRAINING FLIGHT

The 1951 discovery was identified as the wreck of a twin-engine Neptune missing on a training flight Dec. 23, 1950. Never reported found was a similar U.S. Navy aircraft said to have nine aboard, that vanished on another flight in November, 1948, in the same area.

Party that brought out the remains of the 11 crash victims found in '51 reported finding nothing but "wreckage and bones." They said no personal effects, "not even dog tags," were found.

The remains found in that year were strewn over a 400-yard area on the steep mountainside. The search party said the aircraft apparently hit the mountain head on.

Red Threat

Laotian Capital Panics

VIENTIANE, Laos (CP)—Panic hit the royal capital of Luang Prabang Monday as reports of Communist rebel attacks in the province reached the city.

About 50 families were reported to have fled the city. Unconfirmed reports said rebels were operating within 30 miles of Luang Prabang, which lies north of this administrative capital. Rumors of other military engagements in Luang Prabang province are rife in the capital, but no confirmation is available.
